

965 INTRODUCED . . .

Unicam Sets Bill Record

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Monday cracked all Unicameral records for bill production with the appearance of 190 new legislative proposals, including a stiff bar against teacher walkouts.

Monday's splurge smashed the 1967 record of 947 bills, and placed the 1969 session in position to break the old bicameral record of 1,135 bills introduced in 1917.

Some 110 requests were presented to the bill drafter's office during the day, bringing the grand total of individual proposals to 1,489.

After Drafting

Bills not yet in the hands of senators may be introduced by individual lawmakers within 24 hours after they are drafted.

In addition, legislative committees and the governor may still introduce bills. Gov. Norbert Tiemann has an estimated 100 proposals in the works as a result of recommendations of his Little Hoover Commission.

The bill total at the end of the Legislature's twentieth day stood at 965.

Suspend Teachers

Four senators, headed by Sen. William Wylie of Elgin, presented LB958, providing for the revocation or suspension of teacher's or administrator's certificates for not less than two years if they are involved in work stoppages disrupting classroom instruction.

The bill also provides that participants will not be paid during the time classes are disrupted by such a walkout.

Also signing the measure were Sens. Ramey Whitney of Chappell, John Knight of Lincoln, and Rudolf Kokes of Ord.

City Sales Tax

Sen. William Swanson of Lincoln produced LB940, permitting municipalities to levy a sales tax up to one-half of one percent.

Sen. Bill Bloom of Omaha proposed LB963, providing for a 2% occupation tax on hotel rooms costing more than $2 a day.

Revenue from the tax would be distributed 20% to the Department of Industrial Development, and 80% to the counties for further distribution among the cities and for law enforcement activities.

Other new bills propose a program of state financial support for area vocational technical schools; a retirement income credit to be applied against the state income tax, and authorization for judicial district public defenders.

Major highway proposals would create the Nebraska Highway Bond Commission to administer revenue bond financing of road construction, and reduce the gasoline dealer's shrinkage allowance from 3% to 1%.

With tongue-in-cheek, Sens. George Syas of Omaha and Roland Luedtke of Lincoln proposed that the melanoplus femur-rubrum be designated as the state insect. That's the red-legged grasshopper.

Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland proposed a procedure for withdrawal of signatures from any statewide initiative or referendum petition.

And Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha authored a bill which would make it unlawful for any person or entity deriving primary income from tax funds to participate in election campaigns. The only exception would be a candidate himself.

VIET RECOVERY COSTLY

$30 Billion Price Of Self-Support

. . . REPORT IS ABOUT READY

Saigon (P) — The 10-year cost to make South Vietnam self-supporting will be about $30 billion, according to an economic report being prepared for President Nixon and President Nguyen Van Thieu.

A big portion of the money would have to come from the United States although some would be raised by Saigon, some from private enterprise and some from other nations, notably Japan.

Peach Assumed

The report, based on the assumption of peace in Vietnam, is the work of a team headed by David E. Lilienthal and Prof. Vu Quoc Thuc, a respected economist who is now minister of state in the South Vietnamese cabinet.

It was prepared over the past two years by the Development and Resources Corp., a consultant firm headed by Lilienthal, and about 55 South Vietnamese specialists of various sorts under Thuc.

Lilienthal is former chairman of both the Tennessee Valley Authority and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The report is to be submitted to the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments shortly. Although it has not been made public, Lilienthal disclosed its general approach in Foreign Affairs magazine and experts in Saigon and Washington are familiar with most details of the 700-page study.

$2 Billion Gap

In his article Lilienthal said the gap between public and private investment and the amount of necessary foreign aid was $2 billion. Experts who have seen the report feel this figure is extremely low. They say it is a hard-nosed, workable study that found South Vietnam's basic economic foundation surprisingly strong despite the ravages of war.

The report says the first three years must emphasize basic reconstruction, roads, agriculture and education. It then specifies some 35 economic projects to be started within the next two years.

One of these is the vast plan for development of the Mekong River's potential in South Vietnam, Thailand, Cambodia and Laos. Another is the restoration of lines to power stations in the central highlands which can be put back in production quickly.

Japan Willing

The cost of the Mekong project is conservatively put at $400 million and much of this is expected to come from Asian nations. Japan has voiced a willingness to make a substantial contribution in money and experts.

The blueprint for South Vietnam's economic future foresees a mixed economy of free enterprise, joint ventures and government projects.

It also specifies that changes in land policy will be required and suggests that grants of land to South Vietnamese soldiers would be one step toward this. This would ease unemployment among demobilized soldiers and encourage people to return to the countryside.

Soldiers On Projects

Some experts who have worked on the report suggest that as the war dwindles, South Vietnam's army could be partly shifted to such tasks as road building and the repair of dikes and similar facilities.

Although hasty demobilization of the more than one million men in the armed forces was not foreseen, it was believed that some demobilization plus end of military-related activities would create the need for 500,000 new jobs within two years of any cease-fire.

This, the report said, was a serious problem but it could be met.

FOUR INJURED IN CAR-TRUCK ACCIDENT

Three Lincoln men and a woman suffered minor injuries in a car-pickup accident Monday afternoon. Police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Mary B. Neely, 53, 4830 So. 44th, westbound on Highway 2 was in collision with a city sewer department truck which was turning left on to Pioneer Blvd. from Highway 2. Hospitalized in satisfactory condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital were Floyd

Rutter, 43, 7003 Kearney, a passenger in the truck and Mrs. Neely. Henry W. Myers, 24, 3091 T, the driver of the truck and Alex Wooster, 59, 305 So. 11th, also a passenger in the truck, were treated for their injuries and released. Rescue workers are shown lifting one of the victims into an ambulance at the scene. (Star Photo.)

Arabs Assert Israeli Jets Downed

Beirut, Lebanon (P) — Israeli planes went into action over Jordan Monday, touching off rival Iraqi and Jordanian claims that the forces of each shot down two aircraft.

An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv denied that any planes were lost. "Two jets went into action today and two returned," he said.

What actually happened was clouded in the claims and denials from both sides.

Golan Heights

A military spokesman in Baghdad said 14 Israeli jets struck at Iraqi forces of the Saladin Brigade in Jordan and said Iraqi groundfire brought down two planes aflame in Israeli-occupied Golan Heights. Baghdad radio said one Iraqi soldier was wounded slightly in the alleged attack.

An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv denied the Iraqi charge altogether. About 20,000 Iraqi troops have been stationed in Jordan since the June 1967 war.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said three Israeli jets had circled over Jordanian positions in the Irbid district. He said groundfire downed one near Tiberias and the other on the Golan plateau.

At this point, Tel Aviv said only two jets had struck across the Jordan River and both had returned to the base.

Bedouins Said Strafed

Later, a Jordanian spokesman reported that two Israeli helicopters, escorted by jet fighter planes, strafed a desert campsite of a group of Bedouins near Petra, across from Israel's Negev region. No casualties were reported, but two tents went up in flames. There was no confirmation from Tel Aviv.

The Israelis said their planes were sent over Jordan shortly after an army patrol was fired on near Neve Ur, a border settle-

Differences Hampering Initiative By Big Four

New York Times Service

United Nations, N.Y. — Western diplomatic sources Monday emphasized that until differences among the Big Four powers over the interpretation of the Nov. 22, 1967, Security Council resolution on the Middle East are reconciled, it will be impossible for them to take a new initiative in breaking the Israeli-Arab deadlock.

President Nixon reportedly has agreed to a French proposal that the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain meet here to discuss a Middle East settlement.

The primary difference confronting the Big Four is over the interpretation of the timing of the withdrawal of Israeli forces from occupied Arab territories.

ment nine miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

There were flare-ups elsewhere. The Israeli settlement of Zar'it 12 miles east of the Mediterranean and a few hundred yards from the border of Lebanon came under Lebanese fire briefly. An Israeli spokesman said the fire was returned and there were no casualties in the settlement.

Grenade Misses Dayan

In the Israeli-occupied Gaza Strip, scene of wild riots Sunday, a hand grenade was thrown at an Israeli military vehicle a few minutes after Defense Minister Moshe Dayan had passed. The blast killed two Arab boys and wounded 10 other persons.

Dayan had been on an unannounced tour of the area with several commanders and aides.

About an hour later, another grenade was thrown near the offices of the military governor, but no casualties or damage occurred. Two persons were arrested after the second blast.

Israeli authorities announced that they were granting an amnesty for three Gaza women whose conviction on spy charges had touched off the Sunday riots involving 4,000 Arab girls. The jail terms of the three were reduced to probation periods after they signed a pledge to refrain from underground political activity.

Traffic Controls Okayed For 27th St. Intersection

By TOM EKVAL
Star Staff Writer

A new traffic control system at 27th and P Sts. received City Council approval Monday despite contentions during the public hearing that a greater need exists for signalization at the West O St. and Capitol Beach Boulevard intersection.

Edward Copple, coordinator of the West Side Citizens for Traffic Improvement, told council members that they should postpone action on installing traffic signals at 27th and P Sts. for a year and, instead, install signals at the West O St. intersection.

The council has already appropriated the money for putting signals at 27th and P Sts.

Move Traffic

Robert Holsinger, city traffic engineer, said the signals at 27th and P Sts. are necessary to adequately move the traffic.

"The traffic volume is too high to be controlled by stop signs," Holsinger said.

The traffic control plan calls for blocking off P St. and later on, Q St. on the east side of the 27th St. intersections.

Holsinger said it is necessary to block off the intersections so that the heavy volume of traffic will not go into the residential neighborhoods as a shortcut.

Temporary Barrier

The traffic engineer said a temporary barrier would be erected which would later be replaced by a cul-de-sac.

Holsinger told council members that the West O St. situation has been studied by his department but that there are not enough funds to signalize the intersection this year.

Closed On Tues.

He explained that signal installations are recommended on a priority basis with the West O St. one being down on the list.

Immediately

Copple said the intersection needs a signal system immediately so that people and vehicles can cross West O St.

He said it is next to impossible to cross the road now because of the steady traffic on West O St. which moves at a "pretty fast speed."

"Motorists wanting to cross must wait forever, hold their breath, and then go," Copple said.

Council members questioned Holsinger as to whether a temporary signal control would alleviate the problem.

Holsinger said any stoplight without providing an extra lane for "left turns" would create more problems.

He said that failure to provide for the turnoff would result in rear-end collisions because of the fast speeds on the road.

Holsinger agreed with Copple that something should be done about the intersection but said it would have to come during the next fiscal year at the earliest unless City Council changes its present priorities.

Engine Co. No. 3 firemen put out a fire from a defective light fixture at the YWCA building and held damage to $15.

But when they returned to the fire house 16 minutes later, someone had walked off with their $400 television set and the table to which the set was bolted.

Tass Criticizes Czechs Abroad

Moscow (P) — The Soviet news agency Tass Monday condemned efforts of Czechoslovak emigres to form organized groups abroad and hinted that their activities might cause additional troubles for the Czechoslovak population back home.

The emigres are being organized by the "same forces that aggravate the situation in Czechoslovakia," Tass said.

Hippie Youth Talked Out Of Cuban Jaunt

Miami (P)—A knife-wielding young man with shoulder-length hair was talked out of forcing a National Airliner to Cuba Monday, several hours after an Eastern Air Lines jet with 93 people aboard was hijacked to the Caribbean island.

Dade County sheriff's deputies met National Flight 11 from New York at Miami International Airport and arrested Michael Peparo, 18, of Cold Springs, N.Y., and his hippie-attired girl friend, Tamsin Fitzgerald, 18. Her address was not available.

Peparo and Miss Fitzgerald were booked into Dade County jail on air piracy and kidnapping charges.

Armed With Knife

Deputies said the youth, who told them he was a student at Dutchess Community College at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., had a knife and aerosol can of mosquito repellent.

Deputy Butch Sumblin said the mustachioed youth wore shoulder-length hair, blue jeans and a pullover sweater and carried an Eastern youth fare card.

The deputy said Miss Fitzgerald was arrested after she ran away from deputies through one of the airport concourses and was chased and caught.

Sumblin also quoted the pilot of the National plane, Capt. Harry Davis, as saying he "doubted the boy had the nerve" to carry out the hijacking.

National officials said the youth had forced his way into the cockpit of the plane after it left New York, but was talked out of his plan. They said he was not armed when he was met by deputies at the airport.

Capt. Davis radioed ahead and notified authorities of the attempt, a spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the six crew members of the hijacked Eastern Flight 7 brought the Boeing 727 Whisper jet back to Miami some six and a half hours after Capt. Jack Moore radioed the FAA Air Traffic Control Tower at Jacksonville, Fla., "It looks like we're going south of Miami today."

State Department officials said the EAL passengers, who were en route to Miami from Newark when they made the unscheduled side trip, would be brought back later in the evening.

The Eastern plane was the 12th commercial airliner hijacked to Cuba this year. Among the passengers was Allen Funt, originator of the "Candid Camera" television program, Funt's wife and two children, a nurse and a film crew.

Panel To Consider U.S. Military Policy

Washington (P) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was named Monday to head a special Senate foreign relations subcommittee to gauge the impact of U.S. military commitments on foreign policy.

Announcing the appointment, committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said in a statement that the subcommittee will delve into the full extent of overseas commitments and "the military capacity to honor them." He said Vietnam would be excluded because of the "complicated and unique questions" it poses.

"It is hoped that this review will result in constructive recommendations concerning the involvement of United States armed forces abroad, the impact of United States overseas commitments and the relationship between foreign policy commitments and the military capacity to honor them," Fulbright said.

"It is not possible to evaluate American foreign policy without a full understanding of American political, military and economic commitments abroad," he said.

Passengers Safe

London (UPI) — Sixty-nine passengers scrambled to safety through an emergency chute when a Pan American World Airways DC 8 aircraft from Washington caught fire while landing at London airport.

Two Barometers Watched On Missile Talks

(C) New York Times News Service

Washington —The Nixon administration is watching two gauges which it believes will indicate if the climate is right for the start of missile disarmament talks with the Soviet Union. Shanker Handed Jail Term

New York — The United Federation of Teachers was fined $220,000 and its head, Albert Shanker, sentenced to 15 days in jail for defying a court order last year to end the school strike. Shanker said he thought the verdict was "fair."

Mother Denied Help

New York — A decision by the city's department of social services to deny welfare aid to a mother and nine of her 12 children because she came from Mississippi to New York with the sole aim of going on relief was affirmed by the state. The woman will receive emergency help until she can support herself or leave the city.

Anti-Gaullists Open Up On Regionalizing Plan

(C) New York Times Service

Paris — The opposition opened fire Monday on President Charles de Gaulle's call for a springtime referendum on regional reform and the virtual elimination of the senate as a legislative body.

But the consensus of the French press, including anti-Gaullist newspapers, was that the president had chosen an unbeatable battlefield.

Only two party leaders, Rene Billeres of the Radical Socialists and Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt of the ultrarightist Republican Alliance, called flatly for a "no" vote.

'Fake, Fake, Fake'

Guy Mollet, the Socialist secretary general, called the proposed constitutional reform a "fake regionalization, a faked participation, proposed in a faked referendum," but did not actually demand a "no" vote.

The Communist organ, L. Mumanite, foresaw a reduction of powers of locally elected councilmen, but limited itself to saying that De Gaulle could not "count on our support."

Jacques Duhamel, head of the centrist opposition bloc in the national assembly, voiced the widespread complaint among rural conservatives that the referendum would demand a single vote on two questions: more power for the regions, which Duhamel described as "indispensable," and the weakening of the Senate, about which he was unenthusiastic.

In his speech Sunday at Quimper, in Brittany, the president sketched out only briefly the plan to assign powers to regional bodies including local councilmen and representatives of trade and labor organizations and the universities.

The senate would become a similar body, which would advise on economic and planning bills before they were submitted to the national assembly. The assembly would, in effect, become a one-chamber parliament.

Few Frenchmen care about the senate, whose legislative powers have become largely symbolic.

What upset many anti-Gaullists, however, was that the referendum also shaped up as a vote of confidence in the president. It would be the fifth such plebiscite in the history of the Fifth Republic.

Nixon Plans To Visit Europe

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon is planning a springtime visit to the capitals of America's allies in Europe, may be ready to resume diplomatic relations with Egypt and is expected to call for quick Senate confirmation of the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

Details of all three moves in the foreign policy field could come at Nixon's second presidential news conference, which the White House announced would be held at 10 a.m. CST Thursday.

A cordial letter from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt appeared to signal his readiness to resume relations with the United States, broken in June, 1967, when Nasser charged American planes helped Israel in its six-day war against the Arabs.

Nixon scheduled a meeting with Republican congressional leaders for Wednesday and was expected to sound them out for final approval of his plans to seek Senate confirmation of the nuclear treaty, designed to keep nuclear arms out of countries not now possessing them.

Senate consideration of the treaty was forestalled last summer when Soviet bloc nations invaded Czechoslovakia, Nixon called for delay then.

The White House announced tentative plans for the presidential trip abroad on a day when the chief executive confined his travel to visits to the Departments of Agriculture and Housing and Urban Development to deliver pep talks to some of their officials.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said the "working trip" to Europe probably would be undertaken within 60 days. He said Nixon hoped to be back in Washington by the start of the April 10 meeting of the NATO council of foreign ministers here.

Nixon was understood to be drafting a cordial letter to Nasser in response to the Egyptian's friendly note of congratulations to Nixon upon his inauguration.

Although Ziegler did not give a tentative itinerary for Nixon's first trip abroad as President, authoritative sources said the chief executive hoped to visit Paris, Rome, London and Bonn. They said he had no plans yet for a visit to the Soviet Union or a meeting elsewhere with Russia's leaders.

Allen To Play Key Role In U.S. Education

Washington (AP) —President Nixon announced Monday Dr. James E. Allen Jr., New York state commissioner of education, will play a leading role in shaping national policy on education as the new U.S. commissioner of education.

Allen will have also the title of assistant secretary of health, education and welfare. He succeeds Harold Howe III in the commissioner's post.

In a White House statement on the appointment, which had been reported earlier in the day from Albany, Nixon said "the federal responsibility for education and training has been growing and will continue to grow."

Allen is expected to join the department no later than May 1, the White House said.

Allen was asked if he favors busing of students to overcome racial inequities.

He said he favors busing students to provide them with better education.

"I happen to believe integration is an important element in getting quality education" and he is not for busing "unless it improves educational opportunity."

As for desegregation guidelines he said he would follow them. "I will carry out the law and the guidelines that have been set."

Reds Moving On Paths To Saigon

Saigon (AP) — A lot of enemy movement on distant approaches to Saigon, though largely by small units, led a U.S. spokesman to suggest Monday that the Communist command has again placed the capital on its list of objectives.

"Our offensive capabilities have forestalled or postponed a large attack on the city," the spokesman said. "However, there can be isolated incidents of terror."

Another American source described the enemy operations — usually by groups ranging from about 12 to 100 men — as backing and filling movements.

"They move forward, then back," he said. "Then forward or sideways. There is no discernible trend."

The combination of enemy maneuvers and allied drives stirred up a half-dozen hard fights Sunday in areas ranging from 20 to 60 miles of Saigon and made it one of the heaviest days of contact since mid-December.

Military headquarters announced American and South Vietnamese forces killed 160 of the enemy. Eleven Americans and 31 Vietnamese were killed and 43 Americans and 30 Vietnamese were wounded.

In one of the stiffest actions two Vietnamese infantry companies, about 300 men, were hit hard in an ambush by Viet Cong troops after making a helicopter assault in the Mekong Delta 60 miles southwest of the capital.

The Viet Cong, dug in along a canal bank, killed 28 of the government soldiers and wounded 15 with heavy rifle and machine gun fire.

BORIS KARLOFF ... as Karloff.

KARLOFF ... as Frankenstein's monster.

'Monster' King Dies; Karloff Loved Children

London (AP) — Boris Karloff loved children. Nothing pleased him more than letters he received from youngsters expressing compassion for him as king of the screen monsters.

A gentle, sensitive English actor known to millions around the world primarily for his movie role as Frankenstein's monster, Karloff once remarked that such fan mail was a compliment.

"I've been working for years on horror films and I know that children love them," he said. "It really isn't horror to them, you know. It's exciting adventure ... Too many similar pictures today simply rely on shock. That's bad."

Ailing for three months, Karloff died peacefully of a respiratory ailment in a hospital near London Sunday. He was 81.

Karloff's real name was William Henry Pratt. He was born in the London suburb of Dulwich Nov. 23, 1887. His father, James Pratt, was an official in the British Indian Civil Service.

The youth was given an expensive education in preparation for the British consular service, but cut loose from his family at the age of 21 and emigrated to Canada.

After working on a farm and as a truck driver he joined a theatrical company and adopted the name of his maternal grandfather — Boris Karloff.

He became a movie monster by chance. He was in Hollywood in 1931 playing a small part in a film when a producer asked him if he'd like to play a monster.

"A monster indeed!" said Karloff. "But I didn't look a gift horse in the mouth. I needed to eat and I took it."

Karloff played the monster in three Frankenstein films in the 1930's — "Frankenstein," "Bride of Frankenstein," and "The House of Frankenstein."

Karloff, despite the guise he presented, was so fond of children that at one point in his long career he switched from horror films to telling bedtime stories to children in a New York radio show. He drew rave notices when he appeared in a revival of Peter Pan on Broadway in 1956.

Nazi Tactics, SDS Likened By Hayakawa

Washington (AP) — Student militants are using tactics that helped the Nazis rise to power in Germany, acting President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College told Congress Monday.

But while the soft-spoken semantacist defended his use of police to pacify his strike-torn campus, he said also, "In a sense, the issues behind most present troubles are valid." He advocated better educational opportunities at all levels "even at enormous expense."

Hayakawa told a House education subcommittee that revolutionary groups like the Students for a Democratic Society have a basic purpose "to create doubt on the ability of administrators to administer, of governments to govern."

This is the sort of thing Adolf Hitler's followers did when they were brawling street groups, Hayakawa went on — "They created doubts about the ability of courts to administer the laws, officials to function, government to govern."

"When enough people are disillusioned about the ability of government to govern, the time is ripe for a dictator ...," Hayakawa said. "There is no SDS dictator in the wings that I know of but creation of doubt is an important goal for them."

Hardin Seeking To Increase Advance Feed Grain Checks

Washington (AP) —Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin said Monday he is seeking a way to provide funds for the customary 50% advance payments to farmers who participate in the feed grain program this year.

Hardin said at a briefing the 1969 budget provides such advance payments to farmers who take land out of production will be only 25%.

But noting that advance payments the past eight years provided for 50%, the secretary said he is asking the Budget Bureau and President Nixon to consider somehow reinstating the prior pattern.

Hardin said he thinks there will be a reply, by Wednesday.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson's fiscal 1969 budget set the advance payment figure for 25% and the proposed 1970 fiscal year budget he sent to Congress before he left office contained no provision for them.

This is the first day farmers can sign up to participate in the feed grains program for 1969. Hardin said he was surprised to learn farmers did not understand advance payments this year would be 25 instead of 50%.

Hardin announced that President Nixon will nominate James V. Smith, 42, a farmer, cattleman and former Republican House member from Chickasha, Okla., administrator of the Farmers Home Administration.

Hardin also announced these appointments:

—Roy W. Lennartson, administrator of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

—Everett C. Weitzell, a veteran career employee of the department, deputy administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration.

—E. F. Behrens, executive assistant to the secretary, a role he has been filling the past several weeks. Behrens was the transition representative for Hardin in December and January.

Northern Lines Urge Merger OK

Washington (AP) — The Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington Railroads asked the Supreme Court Monday to disallow a government antitrust suit and permit immediate merger of Burlington with the northern roads.

The Northern Lines requested the high court in a brief to affirm a 1968 decision by a three-judge federal court approving the merger. The railroad said the Justice Department's objections are "so clearly lacking in substance as not to warrant further briefing and oral argument."

The department filed an antitrust suit a month ago to block the merger, which would create one of the world's largest railroad networks.

The government contends the merger would imperil rail competition in the nation's uppermost tier of states from Chicago to the Northwest.

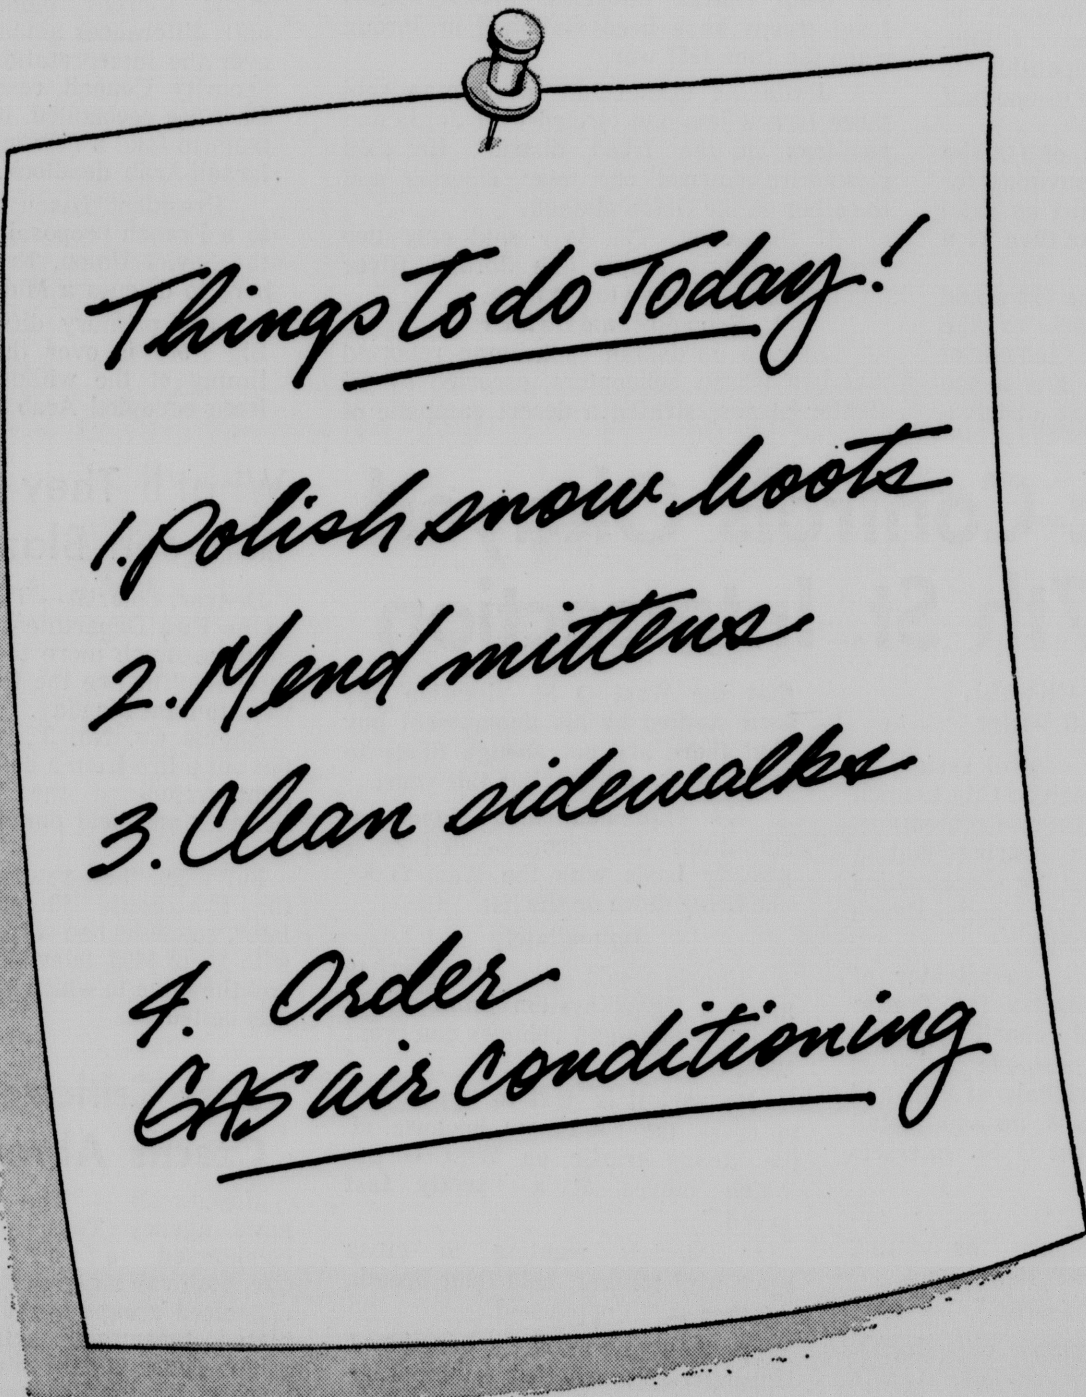

The companies' reply declares that the Interstate Commerce Commission and lower court hold that "contentions against the merger do not override the benefits, including savings and better service" and the merged companies "will serve the national interest and promote the congressional objective of a rail system serving the public more effectively and efficiently."

New Air Routes Get CAB Okay

... FOR SERVING OMAHA

Washington (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Operating Rights recommended Monday new routes for three trunk airlines and two regional airlines to serve Omaha, Neb., and its principal markets.

In a position statement to examiner Richard A. Walsh, the bureau said it would support the proposed route awards because of the need for competition in each market involved, and because of the opportunity to strengthen the subsidized local service airlines.

Walsh will consider the bureau's viewpoint in preparing his own initial decision for final action by the board.

Roy Nerenberg, bureau counsel, proposed these route awards to:

1. American Airlines — routes between Omaha and Des Moines, Iowa, and New York-Newark to the east, and San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose to the west. Also, between Omaha and Chicago, with two stops required on Omaha-Washington-Baltimore flights.

2. Trans World Airlines — routes between Omaha and Des Moines and Washington-Baltimore, and Los Angeles. Also between Des Moines and Chicago, with two stops between Des Moines and New York.

3. Eastern Air Lines — routes between Omaha and Seattle, and Omaha and St. Louis, to provide direct Omaha-Seattle service at reduced fares.

4. Frontier Airlines — routes between Omaha and Denver, and between Omaha and Kansas City, Mo.

5. North Central Airlines — a route between Omaha and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The bureau said the awards to Frontier and North Central would improve local service and strengthen the airlines without adding stations or mileage to their systems.

Voters Approve Hyannis School

Hyannis (AP) — Voters in School District 11 in Grant County voted 330-182 in favor of a $945,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new junior-senior high school in Hyannis.

Supt. John Mandeville said about 700 voters were eligible to cast ballots.

Mandeville said the new school will serve students in Grant County and parts of Sheridan and Cherry Counties.

Hamilton Community Foundation "for the mental, moral, intellectual and physical improvement, assistance and relief of the inhabitants of Hamilton County... regardless of race, color or creed."

Specifically, the funds will go for educational scholarships; assistance to charitable institutions (including nonprofit educational institutions); care of children, sick, aged and helpless; providing recreational facilities and the encouragement of sanitation and measures for prevention and suppression of disease.

In 50 years, the will states that the principal, as well as the income, should be used for the prescribed purposes.

Another bequest of the will was $500 to the Lester S. Harter Post of the American Legion in Aurora in appreciation for furnishing hospital equipment for the use of Hamilton County residents.

Snow Dunes Appear On Scene At York

These frozen hillocks stretch across the York County Fairgrounds at York, giving the appearance of a possible snowmobile obstacle course. Winds and drizzle have carved the snow, trucked from city streets, into jagged formations.

Silver Creek Woman Dies At Crossing

Silver Creek (UPI) — Rose Micek, 73, of Silver Creek was killed instantly here Monday afternoon when the car she was driving was struck broadside by a Union Pacific passenger train.

A spokesman for Union Pacific said the accident occurred at a main street crossing which was protected by automatic flashing signal lights.

The engineer, who gave no estimate of the speed of the train, said he blew his whistle and had his headlight flashing and also his yellow flashing light to warn of the approaching train.

Basement Fire Halts Classes At Ft. Calhoun

Ft. Calhoun (UPI) — A fire in a basement storage room of the Ft. Calhoun High School late Monday morning caused the evacuation of the two-story building and dismissal of classes for the day.

The blaze was discovered at 10:45 a.m. and was confined to the storage room. Windows of the room were blown out.

Fire officials said the contents of the room were destroyed and smoke damage was incurred through most of the remainder of the school building.

Spontaneous combustion was believed to be the cause, according to Fire Chief Carl Christiansen.

The school has an enrollment of 162.

Supt. Gerald Pierce, who dismissed classes, said students in a classroom adjacent to the storage room did not know of the blaze until the alarm was sounded. A teacher saw the smoke and turned in the alarm.

The Ft. Calhoun department fought the blaze. There was no immediate dollar estimate of damage.

Iowan Is Killed During Robbery Attempt At Inn

Omaha (AP) — A 46-year-old Carter Lake, Iowa, man was killed early Monday during an attempted robbery of the Mainliner Inn in East Omaha.

The victim was identified as Frank D. Kruger. Police said two men with nylon stockings pulled over their faces entered the establishment about 1:10 a.m. and ordered patrons, including Kruger, to the back of the room.

Officers said one of the men fired a shot, then the other man fired a shotgun, the charge striking Kruger in the chest. The two men then fled from the scene.

The Rev. Mr. Willets, who assumes his duties March 1, will work in the field of human resources, human relations and supervision, with an emphasis on personnel counseling.

Snow Covered Fields Hamper Feeding Task

Most field forages are snow covered and grazing is quite limited except for portions of the Panhandle, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Monday.

"Supplemental feeding requirements remain quite high and supplies are disappearing rapidly," the bureau said in its weekly crop-weather report.

The ground is nearly bare over most of the Panhandle, but elsewhere there is a good snow cover ranging from two inches in the far southwest to six to 10 inches over much of the state and up to well over a foot in portions of the Sandhills and northeast.

Forage feed supplies are becoming short in some areas causing dispersal of livestock in some cases, the report stated. Hay and forages are inaccessible or difficult to procure in many northeastern areas and in local areas elsewhere, according to the bureau.

Other comments: Most wheat fields have a snow cover except for some parts of the Panhandle. This is giving protection to the wheat from low night-time temperatures which have occurred almost daily.

Power Problem

The major farm task is caring for livestock. Snow drifts and icy rough surfaces made feeding operations difficult. A few farms and ranches in the central part of the state remained without electrical power following the previous week's ice storm in that area.

Lambing operations are well under way in the west. The weather was very unpleasant for all newborn livestock with some losses from freezing and disease.

Don Dillow won the sweepstakes award for the men's bake-off and Mrs. Lynn Christensen won the women's division sweepstakes.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The demise of The Saturday Evening Post was a sad development for those who remembered the heyday of that famous periodical. This week, more people were saddened with the death of Boris Karloff.

Karloff was best known for his creation of the Frankenstein monster in the uncomplicated days before World War II. When Frankenstein was at the height of his fame, one of the most daring things you could do was to visit a movie house where he was playing.

It might have cost you as much as a quarter to do so but a Frankenstein movie was worth it. Many a youngster slipped off to a monster movie without his parents knowing what he intended to do. And when you didn't want to go to bed that night, your parents never knew that Frankenstein had your imagination working overtime.

The Karloff movies, in looking back at them, were a higher type of violence or horror than is used today. As we remember them, very few people were killed. The emphasis was on tension and you even managed to have a little sympathy for the monster.

There actually was not any real evil in the Frankenstein productions, except that they would depict a countryside struck with terror. The violence of today is more deliberate and inhuman than it was under the keen acting of Karloff.

But when you are saddened with the end of such things as the Post or the death of an actor such as Karloff, what you really lament is the passing of the time. It brings home to you the pleasant memories of times gone by and reminds you of the adult responsibilities that bear upon you at the present time.

When Karloff was at the height of his popularity, a lot of things were different. When you went to the movie, chances are you walked or rode the bus.

Public transportation was a highly successful business because the automobiles had not achieved the high standing it now commands in families. If kids in those days wanted to go some place, nobody's parents took them.

There were some neighborhood theaters where the admission was only a nickel in the afternoon. The kids would line up for blocks for what was always a "good and bad guys" western, a Walt Disney cartoon and a continuing serial.

The area around the theater was a mass of bicycles because that was a major way of getting around. And while the bicycle was more popular then than now, it seems that fewer of them were ever stolen.

If you wanted to walk, it was safe to do so. Even the poorest areas of town were not considered particularly unsafe.

The poor were not better off at that time but they were more resigned to their fate than they are today. It wasn't any better that way but it was different.

Everyone at that time, it seems, had a better capacity for getting along with what he had. Kids had very little planned for them but remember the years with a lot of pleasure.

They could spend endless weekends in a heavily wooded area, along the banks of a stream or visiting a nearby farm. Today's kids would find such things pretty boring after the first two or three experiences.

And when the Karloff movies were packing them in, the drug store sold double-dip ice-cream cones for a nickel. The best friend a kid could have was the guy who worked the soda fountain and everybody wondered how he could have been so lucky as to get that job.

Certainly, the world has become a great deal more complicated than it was 30 years ago. And while you might not want to go back in time, you hate to see the benchmarks of the past disappear from the scene.

Nixon Puts Okay On Thompson Departure

WASHINGTON — The taxpayers are spending a small fortune to convert President Nixon's Florida retreat into a suitable vacation spot.

The government is quietly extending a seawall, building a heliport and installing navigational, signal and security equipment for Nixon at Key Biscayne, Fla.

The cost shouldn't be resented by the taxpayers, however, since the improvements are absolutely necessary to protect him and keep him in constant touch with world problems.

We were unfair to ex-President Johnson, incidentally, when we reported that he had refused to turn back government equipment on his LBJ ranch.

It is true that he is keeping the signal tower at the landing strip and a couple of government trailers. The government has calculated that it would cost more to remove these items than to leave them in Texas.

Certain signal and security equipment also remains at the ranch for the use of the Secret Service, which continues to protect Johnson.

As early as last October, however, LBJ ordered the government equipment on his ranch returned.

For some weird reason, the Nixon administration promptly accepted the resignation of the most important American diplomat in Europe, Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow.

Thompson, a sincere patriot, had wanted to resign but had been prepared to remain on the job until summer or even fall until his replacement could be found. Instead, he had to come home so suddenly that he had no opportunity to say goodbye to top Russian officials.

Chairman Brezhnev, Premier Kosygin and Foreign Minister Gromyko were all out of Moscow when Thompson left the post where he had served twice during very crucial periods. He was able to pay farewell calls on a few lesser officials, but had to wind them up in about a week.

Ambassador Thompson is the man who helped guide the improvement in relations between the United States and Russia under President Johnson. He is the key man on such vital questions as missile limitation and the anti-ballistic missile system.

While his advice can be used to good advantage in Washington, diplomats were shocked that he was removed so unceremoniously from Moscow.

GOP Keeps Liberal Look

As political tags are used these days, they can never be accurate but it is fair to state that in the re-election of Mrs. Lorraine Orr of North Platte as state chairman, the Republican Party of Nebraska maintains its liberal image. It must be explained that this is liberal in terms of the Nebraska GOP, which would be no more than moderate at best on the national scene.

It is a somewhat unusual lineup since Sen. Carl T. Curtis has been a supporter of Mrs. Orr while Sen. Roman Hruska backed her opponent. Both the GOP national committeeman and committeewoman are in Hruska's camp. Gov. Norbert Tiemann stands with Mrs. Orr but whether he heads this faction of the Republican Party is hard to say.

As much as anything else, Mrs. Orr deserved to win re-election on the basis of her work for the GOP. As her opponents did, you can pick out figures and show some Republican weaknesses in the last election but you can hardly beat victory in all contests.

The fact that Mrs. Orr and Governor Tiemann remain strong and, perhaps, dominant in party circles is an encouraging development for the state of Nebraska. It means an influence upon the party that is imaginative and constructive, that seeks to invest in and develop the state rather than let it languish in the death grip of special interests.

For Democrats, the GOP situation is not good news. Tiemann and the liberal elements of the party have pre-empted the traditional position of Nebraska Democrats. Thus, the Democrats find no major battleground with the party in power and must settle on discussion of secondary issues. Such issues may well be important but they are not the stuff on which successful campaigns are built.

Senators And Special Interests

There are almost a dozen former state senators lobbying before the Legislature. Lobbyists represent special interests — that's what they get paid for.

This is happening with greater regularity now and the distinction between senator and lobbyist is becoming so muddled that it is sometimes difficult to tell the senators without a program. Two senators served both as senators and lobbyists last year.

The question which arises is, when do the senators begin serving special interests? Do they do it as senators and then move into more lucrative jobs as lobbyists?

As an example, not more than a few

Pueblo Case Points Up Country's Sad Lack Of Best Possible Procedures Of Investigation

NEW YORK — The Navy board of inquiry in the Pueblo spy ship case raises some interesting questions about how we investigate official blunders in the United States.

Obviously, the Navy had to look into the spy's mission, its activities off the North Korean coast, its inability to destroy the enemy or itself, and the consequences of its capture, but was this inquiry conducted by the right people, at the right time and in the right manner?

Not only Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the Pueblo's skipper, is suspect in this tragic incident, but the Navy and the Defense Department are also under suspicion. And the latter are in effect sitting in judgment on themselves.

Bucher and his crew clearly had to be questioned quickly and in private on the intelligence aspects of the case while their memories were still fresh, but why a public inquiry before Bucher had regained his composure and under conditions that raise serious doubts about whether the spirit of due process was being followed.

The Navy's handling of the public in the open hearings is also very odd. It concedes the public's right to know what is going on in the open part of the board's hearings and it keeps a transcript of the proceedings, but it refuses to allow the public transcript to be published, or permit the reporters in the open hearings to take down their own transcript.

The main question here, however, is not about the transcript, or even about the Navy. The Navy is at least following a traditional all too often ignored in other parts of the government: That is to say, it does investigate error. The question is whether it can really be objective about its own errors, whether in this case it is being fair to Bucher, and even more important, whether we have in this country an adequate system for reaching objective judgments on major policy blunders much more serious than the Pueblo case.

There is, of course, the right of investigative review in the Congress, which in many cases is highly effective, but in some cases is unavoidably political and subjective. The president has the power to set up investigating commissions, as President Kennedy did after the Cuban Bay of Pigs disaster, but again there is the problem of the accused passing judgment on himself.

The British have more effective instruments for dealing with this sort of thing. Being older and therefore knowing more about human weakness, political cunning, and the slippery slopes of truth, they have created the device of the Royal Commission, which can call upon men and women less subject to the usual frailties of ambition and suspicion to set as a committee of inquiry on the really momentous blunders that trouble a nation.

The U.S. has recognized the need for some such committee of elders to help us through supreme crises. The Pueblo case is not in this category. It merely raises the questions of right and wrong procedures. But Pearl Harbor and the murder of President Kennedy did force us to experiment with

According To Jasper

Lincoln, Neb. I have an old friend named Jasper. He has some peculiarities and many far-out ideas on a multitude of subjects, but strangely enough, he doesn't talk much about them to anyone but me.

Lately he has been talking about the Lincoln downtown business section and what he would suggest about the shortage of parking space and the comfort and convenience of pedestrians.

First, he would make O Street from 9th to 16th a large parking lot — with the exception of the intersections, of course — returning to the diagonal parking system on the sides and a center row of parking, which would more than triple the present parking space. He would widen O Street by taking space from the sidewalks, whatever is needed for the operation, and then —

Second, he would recess the fronts of all the business establishments 10 or more feet, or whatever is necessary. Then he would arch the partitions between these recessions, providing an all-weather protected pedestrian walk. Since there would be some sidewalk still outside this, he would have a uniform marquee extending the full length of each block.

Since O Street would simply be a parking area, M and N, and P and Q would have to handle the through traffic. A pedestrian lane could be placed in the center of each block for the easy cross-over from one side to the other.

And Jasper has ideas about the old City Hall. He doesn't think any antique dealer would be interested in it, but he does think it would be wonderful if some bloated millionaire would shoulder the cost of tearing it down and reconstructing it in one of the city parks — something like the man who is having London Bridge moved to Arizona.

It may have been guessed that he would make the space now occupied by the City Hall into a parking space. He would build a pedestrian tunnel under 10th Street for the convenience of the people parking in the City Hall space so they would have no trouble with the 10th Street through traffic.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

To Your Good Health

For many years now I've made a point of reminding people that exercise is good for almost everyone, so long as it is regular, but I have warned against "week-end exercise"—that is, the fellow who sits all week long, then tries to make up for it with too much exercise all at once.

Exercise should be started lightly, then increased as you get yourself in training.

This applies even to the currently popular sport—or therapy—of jogging.

On a single day, in came two announcements of significance. Dr. James M. Morris, of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, said that last summer he encountered four cases of foot fractures which he attributed to jogging.

This is, he points out, similar to the "march fractures" that bother military recruits. Not used to much exercise as they begin training, such fellows develop these march fractures, or "fatigue fractures." Foot muscles are not in condition.

The second pertinent item comes from some Duke University doctors, writing in the journal of the Academy of General Practice on "stress fractures," another name for the same thing.

They are interested in fractures of legs or feet which sometimes occur but are mistaken for sprains, strains, or bruises. They pay attention to various forms of exercise, running, hustling up and down stairs, marching — and jogging — as causes.

My point today is this: jogging is undoubtedly a very good thing for a lot of people, but start it gradually! Don't be a week-end athlete, and don't try to start out by doing a mile of jogging, or even half that, unless you are in very good condition.

Take it gradually and gently. As you increase the distance, it will tone up your foot and leg muscles. The exercise also will make the bones denser and less subject to fractures.

Another point made by the Duke doctors, Drs. Angus McBryde, Jr. and Frank H. Bassett III, is that in the legs, stress fractures in adults occur more often in winter (two-thirds of them then!) than in any other season.

Their explanation is that runners (or joggers, too?) use hard-surfaced tracks for for college than this recent solicitation at the doc. again. I tried to be polite when I declined to shake hands but I'll admit I was frightened when the young man asked if he would come in and use the restroom.

I have been trained not to admit strangers, day or night. What should I have done?

Off To The Service

Lincoln, Neb.

This is an answer to the letter titled "Draft Board 58" in the January 28 Star.

Wednesday morning, January 29, at 5:45 a.m. I took my boy to the bus station and watched him go on his way to the service to fight and defend his country. He felt this was an obligation that had to be fulfilled. He climbed on the bus willingly along with 38 other boys and left for an unknown destination.

I feel that each of these boys will have to give just a little more, work a little bit harder because of the Abbotts and many more.

Freedom will ring and victory will come with boys such as the 39 who got on that bus that morning. My boy was also called through Draft Board 58, and I know some of the members on this board and feel that they are very good people. They, too, are only doing their duty — fulfilling an obligation to their country.

My boy, too, is a Christian and has the blessings of his pastor. His civil and religious rights have not been abused in any way. I also was in the service in World War II, and served my country for four years. Maybe this group of boys and many like them will help keep the enemy from our shores.

their running in winter rather than the softer tracks in the warm seasons. Those hard surfaces put more strain on the bones.

Joggers may well keep that in mind, too.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our daughter, 12, has started getting cramps in her toes. Are these what they call growing pains? —A.L.

Maybe it's what "they" call growing pains, but there is no such thing. Growing isn't painful. In this case, I'd suspect either some foot defect or shoes that are not correctly fitted. I'd have the youngster examined in hopes that by early correction you can guard against the possibility that some chronic foot trouble is developing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible to have an overactive thyroid and high cholesterol? —E.O.P.

Yes. The two conditions can be present at the same time, but an overactive thyroid still is usually associated with a low cholesterol level.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I eat quite a lot of licorice which seems to settle my stomach and regulate me. I hear it isn't good for you. Can you explain why? —Mrs. B.G.K.

Moderate amounts are all right, but I am sure you can find other ways of settling your stomach. Too much licorice can cause excessive loss of potassium from the system and cause retention of sodium which is not desirable.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

A Difference Of Opinion

Perhaps there is ample room for argument on any given subject, but somehow we think it a little amusing to find two fashion editors with such widely divergent views on the same Paris show.

We'll give you the approving version of it first. It was written by Joan Deppa who does the fashion news for the United Press International.

The second story of the Cardin show was written by Gloria Emerson of the New York Times — Take your choice.

BY JOAN DEPPA

Paris — Pierre Cardin closed the Paris fashion shows Friday with an ultra-modern, ultra-feminine collection that brought the biggest braves of the week.

Cardin cut out all the gimmicks, all the hard, tough spacesuit looks and concentrated on pure fashion based on equally pure geometry.

The circle, straight line and triangle were his mainstays for the miniskirted collection.

The other main component consisted of neat little tubular dresses, sometimes broken at the waistline with belts, sometimes left straight.

Added to the tubes were more straight lines and triangles formed by the sandwich board cut which Cardin began last season.

The sandwich is composed of panels which go over the head like the signboards worn by men advertising "Joe's Bar and Grill."

Cardin stuck to skirts until evening. He contends trousers are improper and unfeminine for daytime wear, and he refuses to change just because every other

Paris collection shows pants suits.

Cardin did a whole new range of the fabulous pleats and embroideries in his own inimitable way. He even managed to pleat one chiffon dress diagonally.

"It was so gorgeous and I was so prepared to hate it," said one fashion writer who was caught in a mad crush at the door resulting from a gigantic mixup in seating arrangements that caused several veteran ladies of the press to exit in a huff.

BY GLORIA EMERSON

(c) New York Times Service
Paris — The new Pierre Cardin couture collection today gave many people who saw it a not too pleasant pang. It seemed at best a kind of burlesque of what Cardin used to do with such wit and ease. All the ideas which made him one of the world's most gifted designers came on again, looking limp and poorly done.

While there are some who still wave the Cardin banner high, it is now harder — almost impossible — to salute him as a designer.

The clothes looked as though Cardin's staff had put them together and as if the workrooms, never famous in this couture house, were in a bad mood when they made them. It was a sloppy show and often a sad one. The trouble isn't that Cardin has no new ideas, but that his old ones can't last forever, much as he would like this.

It was typical, and depressing, to see the Cardin model with a black brassiere showing under a white poor boy sweater and to see runs in stockings. Daytime skirts never hit on one length but depended on which model you saw. The tops of stockings showed on the longer legged girls. The little square-toed Cardin shoes often looked scuffed and shabby. The predictable vinyl touches on dresses spoke of a sint germain boutique, not haute couture. The wrong belts went on dresses which had nothing else to say. The buttons looked cheap.

There's a newish looking Cardin skirt for daytime shaped like a bowl in front and with panels in back. On a red and grey plaid suit, Cardin's jacket is a shawl with little armholes. Some spring suits have doubled-up fringe on the hems of jackets or skirts. The new Cardin stocking is pale with blue designs which unfortunately look like varicose veins.

Abby: he's tired

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for a long time and have finally concluded that nobody has a problem like mine.

Almost every evening after dinner Ralph and I watch TV together, then Ralph cuddles up in his easy chair, falls asleep and starts to snore with all the lights blazing in his face. There is nothing else for me to do except go to bed.

When Ralph finally wakes up and discovers that I have gone to bed without him (about 2 a.m.) he becomes very angry.

I've tried to let him know before he falls asleep that I'm going to bed, but he doesn't even hear me.

We're not a couple of old fogeys, Abby. I am 26 and he is 28 and we've only been married for 2 years. And I'd like to add that before we got married I wasn't sure I'd be enough "woman" for him, and I actually used to pray to the good Lord to give me the strength to keep up with him. What happened?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Either the honeymoon has ended, or your prayers were too well answered.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

White silk fashioned the bride's gown which was designed in the skimmer silhouette. The gown was complemented by long bell sleeves of Chantilly lace.

ART — Julio Gonzalez

By HILTON KRAMER

(c) New York Times Service
New York — The Julio Gonzalez exhibition, now installed at the Museum of Modern Art, is not a major exhibition. It consists of only four sculptures and some 50 works on paper — drawings, pastels, collages, and a single engraving — and was organized by the Museum as a touring exhibition. It was shown initially at the Instituto De Cultura Puertorriquena in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and after its current showing in New York (through March 16) will travel elsewhere. But whatever the shortcomings of this exhibition may be — and it does contain one incontestable masterpiece — Gonzalez's art occupies so important a place in the history of the modern movement that even a minor exhibition of his work compels our attention.

Gonzalez's career was a very unusual one. He produced almost nothing of consequence until well after his 50th year, and then, through an unexpected collaboration with genius, he was suddenly responsible for helping to change the technique and the style of modern sculpture. He very shortly went on to prove himself a marvelously sensitive and original sculptor in his own right. The work he produced in the 1930's constitutes one of the major artistic achievements of that decade, and its influence on American sculpture, while no longer as central as it once was, has been a very fertile one.

Gonzalez was born in Barcelona, in 1876, into a family of gifted artists and craftsmen. The two sons — Julio and his older brother Juan — were trained in metalcraft in their childhood. The brothers were particularly close. They both studied painting at the Barcelona School of Fine Arts in the early nineties, and their metalwork was widely exhibited.

While Barcelona in this period was the scene of a very lively and progressive artistic Bohemia — the milieu from which the precocious Picasso was then emerging — Gonzalez's life was apparently confined to the family circle. Even his move to Paris, in the late Nineties, was a family affair. Soon after his father's death, the family sold their business and all of them — the mother, daughters, and two sons — established their household in Paris.

It was there that Gonzalez met Picasso for the first time. Juan Gonzalez had met Picasso in Barcelona, and Picasso now introduced the Gonzalez brothers to his circle of artist friends in Paris. Gonzalez himself was painting then in a delicate if unremarkable style, derived more or less from Degas and Puvion De Chavannes.

The great crisis of Gonzalez's life occurred in 1908 when his beloved brother died after a prolonged illness. Gonzalez was overcome with despair. He withdrew from the avant-garde Bohemian milieu to which his brother had introduced him and quarreled with Picasso.

It was not until after the first world war that Gonzalez renewed his friendship with Picasso, apparently at the latter's prompting. We actually know very little about Gonzalez's life from the time of his brother's death until the day, roughly 20 years later, when Picasso invited him to collaborate on making some open-form welded iron sculptures.

The collaboration with Picasso had a transforming effect on Gonzalez as an artist. It liberated his sensibilities. It allowed him for the first time to apply his expert knowledge of metalwork to a major artistic task. The vein of sculptural expression which Picasso opened to him — sculpture conceived as a medium in which slender masses of metal were joined to form a kind of three-dimensional draftsmanship — proved to be the perfect vehicle for his considerable talents.

The "Woman With a Mirror" (1936) in the present exhibition is one of the masterpieces Gonzalez produced in the decade of his maturity. It is a work that transforms the syntax of cubism into an open, airy, very delicate, and yet very decisive linear construction. The liberties it takes with its subject-matter are liberties of concision and concentration. It is the gesture of the figure, the feeling that is traced in its posture and movement, that Gonzalez seeks to epitomize, and for this task the elegant sinuities of this new medium, with their lyric touches but very precise forms, were exactly right.

Weddings Of Early February

St. Patrick's Church in Kankakee, Ill., was decorated with chancel arrangements of all-white blossoms for the candlelight wedding of Miss Kathleen Elizabeth Gerrity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Gerrity, Jr., of Kankakee, and James Gerard Mestl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph G. Mestl of Lincoln, on Saturday, Feb. 1. The 2:30 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Francis E. Williams.

Wearing floor-length frocks of rose velveteen were Mrs. William T. Barnes, Denver, and Miss Jane Gerrity, the honor attendants, and the bridesmaids, Miss Laura Watt, Denver, Miss Joyce Bergeron, San Francisco, and Miss Julie Gerrity.

Richard E. Yeager of Chicago, served as best man, and the corps of ushers included Edward F. Gerrity, III; Bill Inbody, Omaha; James Weingart, Madison, Wis.; Joseph Barzantny, New York City; Thomas Hoidal and Greg Carter, Lincoln.

The bride's sleeveless, Empire gown of white peau de soie was complemented by an overbodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace designed with long sleeves. A cluster of jeweled lace petals held her cathedral-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mr. Mestl, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi, and his bride will make their home in New York City. Mrs. Mestl attended Loretto Heights College in Denver.

Clusters of lighted white candles appointed the chancel of Christ Lutheran Church on Saturday evening, Feb. 1, for the wedding of Miss Victoria Ray Heggen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Heggen, Jr., and Robert Scott Newkirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Newkirk. The lines of the 7 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Charles Reimnitz, and Mrs. Herbert Haar, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Mrs. Ed Schmieding.

Satin in ivory and pale blue was chosen for the slim, Empire frocks of Mrs. Thomas Sorensen of Hardy, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Susie Peters, McCook, Miss Pat Tate and Miss Margaret Patton.

Serving his brother as best man was Dana Newkirk, and the groomsmen were Thomas Sorensen of Hardy, Gary Foster and Michael Edwards.

The bride appeared in a directoire gown of white peau de soie. Above the slender skirt, the high-waisted, sleeveless basque was covered by a long-sleeved jacket of Alencon lace, and a deep border of the lace edged the aise-wide detachable train. Her illusion veil was held by a Dior bow of the silk, and she carried a modern arrangement of white glamelias.

Mr. and Mrs. Newkirk will make their home in Lincoln. The bride is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Opening lead—two of clubs.

In the ordinary course of events you are declarer one deal out of four, dummy one deal out of four, and a defender two deals out of four.

Unfortunately, the role of defender does not receive as much attention as the role of declarer, even though a player is on defense twice as often as he is on offense. To defend well is at least as important as playing the dummy well.

Here is a good test of defensive skill. South is in four hearts and West leads a club. East wins the king with the ace and his problem is what to do next. Of course, he sees only his own hand and dummy's.

The proper return is the four of hearts, and in fact, this is the only card East can play to defeat the contract. Once he leads the four of hearts, declarer must stop down; if he leads any other card, the contract cannot be stopped.

There is a very sound reason for the low trump return by East. West's deuce of clubs lead, presumably his fourth best, has marked declarer with three clubs, all losers.

East can also deduce from the bidding that South has the ace of spades and ace of diamonds for his jump to three hearts.

Putting these items together, East realizes that it would be futile to lead the ace and another heart to prevent a club ruff in dummy, since South would wind up with eleven tricks in such case. Also, it would be equally pointless to cash another club first.

Only by maintaining trump control can East hope to stop the contract. He cannot be sure that the low heart return will beat the hand — this depends on declarer's distribution — but he must assume that this is the only possible way to win three club tricks and defeat the contract.

TOWN TALK

When James Risser was a very young lad he decided that he wanted to be an engineer when he grew up. His choice of professions could have been slightly influenced by the fact that his father and his grandfather both were engineers. But he stayed with the idea for five semesters at the University of Nebraska and gave it up because he felt he hadn't the outstanding talent that he thought engineering demanded. He received a degree from the College of Arts and Sciences with majors in math, psychology and English. Then to the University of San Francisco for his law degree, came back to Lincoln and practiced law—but not for too long.

Mr. Risser, you see, really had an overwhelming yen for journalism—a taste he acquired while a staff member of the Lincoln High School Advocate. Then, too, he eventually married a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism, the former Sandra Laaker of Blair, and we're guessing that she may have been the determining factor in his enrolling in the School of Journalism at Nebraska, a course which he completed. It was while he was a J-School student that he wrote an article about 'Fairview' the William Jennings Bryan home which the Lincoln Junior League completely restored and which is open to visitors. He was urged to send it to the Ford Times and he did. The publication immediately sent him a check for the story, but nothing was said about when the article would be published. That was in the early sixties.

If you happen to have a Ford Times for February, 1969—turn to page 63 and read an exceedingly interesting story of the old William Jennings Bryan home — by James Risser, who else?

Mr. Risser has followed his career in journalism and now is on the reportorial staff of the Des Moines Register-Tribune which means, of course, that Mr. and Mrs. Risser and their two sons, David and John, reside in Des Moines.

Have we told you that Mr. Risser is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Valux Risser? No? Well he is.

You've often heard about the 'blushing bride'—but how about the blushing father of the bride?

There was a wedding in Lincoln last Saturday evening. It was a lovely wedding with everything planned and executed perfectly down to the last detail—It was that last detail that caused all of the trouble. The processional went smoothly—the bridal attendants followed by the bride and her father, and the father gave his response to the minister clear and firm. Then he stepped back to be seated—but his step was on the bride's detachable train which detached itself instantly. The blushing father did the only thing he could do—He picked up the train and put it over the back of the pew in front of him, and it didn't make him feel too much better when he heard a wedding guest say—

"I've never seen that done before. It must be something new."

Readers Resent Son's Spending Holidays With His Wife's Family

By ROBERT PETERSON
Q.—“We never liked the girl our son married and she knows it. Just to spite us she insists on their spending every holiday with her parents in the next state, saying it's because they're older. They never ask us along either. She and son live nearby and are nice enough the rest of the time but come Christmas, Easter or Thanksgiving—you name it—we sit here alone. Isn't this selfish?”
A.—Maybe you're selfish. If you've got your son's family nearby all year round, you shouldn't begrudge their spending holidays with her family. In any case you shouldn't be spending holidays alone. Make up lists of older folks you meet who are also alone and invite them to your home. Organize group dinners and parties. With all the lonely people in the world there's no excuse for anyone sitting at home brooding about spiteful daughters-in-law.

Q.—“Negroes aren't the only ones discriminated against. I'm white but have been discriminated against more than any Negro because my head and face were misshapen at birth. No camouflage can alter my grotesque appearance. I've always been rejected — first by my parents, then by classmates, and later by employment managers. I've supported myself as a typist—I can type rings around any other typist. But I'm always the first to go when offices retrench because people can't look at me except with repugnance. At 62 I can honestly say I've been rejected far more than Negroes, who are at least acceptable to each other. I'm not bitter because I realize equality can never exist and that some are favored more than others by fate.”

A.—You've apparently had a very heavy burden to bear, and one can only admire your fortitude in adjusting to your problem, in supporting yourself, and in quelling the bitterness which must often confront you.
Q.—“When my husband retired last fall he promised we'd go to Florida after Christmas. Instead, he went duck hunting New Year's Day and I haven't seen him since. My sister and I went on to Miami and we just got a postcard from the mighty hunter saying he's gone to Canada for deer and won't join us for two more weeks. Is this what happens when men retire?”

A.—Some are so overwhelmed by their new freedom they can't wait to pack their days with sports and thrills they never had time for before. Take it in your stride. When couples retire they should be willing to let each other pursue special interests, and should cultivate sufficient personal activities so as not to be totally dependent on each other.

POSTCARD by Sten Delaplaine

We flew out of the chilly U.S. down to the warm Bahamas. By way of Miami. “Miami?” she said. “Isn't that where they hijack planes?”
I said: “Why did you have to bring that up?”
It's kind of a passenger roulette flying the southern route when the passenger down the aisle may have a free ticket to Havana in his pistol pocket. “Which airline do they prefer?” she asked.
“That's not it,” I said. “The question is which airline do they prefer today.”
We flew TWA. I said: “There's a plane change in St. Louis. And I don't think there can be many people in St. Louis who want to go to Cuba.”
It was polar bear weather below. Most of the United States was snowed in.
However, it's warm in the cabin. The stewardesses seemed calm. As they were starting the cocktails, I overheard one say to the other: “Boy, was I smashed Friday night!”
They put a kingly dining service on these split flights. But you must know which one to eat, which one to save yourself for.
“Coming home,” said the ticket agent, “save yourself for the flight out of St. Louis. That's the gourmet special.”

try. Hello, rum and coca cola.
The Britannia Beach is the newest luxury hotel in the sunny Bahamas.
The brochure in our room said: “We have opened for business on January 20, 1968—a record construction time of seven months.”
“This would be phenomenal in the United States, Canada or practically anywhere else in the world. But in the Bahamas, it is a modern miracle.”
The Bahamas, I gather, is pretty much tomorrow land.
The miracle was a bit thin in places. Only one of the five dining rooms was open. Another opened while I was there — the paperhangers walked out one door as we walked in the other, the first customers.
Cats were smoothing down what will be a pool and tennis court combination.
Carpenters were sawing out what will be the Villa d'Este, an Italian restaurant. And electricians were still hanging things onto bare wires.
The miracle is that as fast as a room is finished, a panting tourist is ready to move in.
Britannia Beach is the other leg of a V — the other is the Paradise Island Hotel which opened here a year ago.
At the joining point of the V, there's a gambling Casino the size of a football field. Bets are $5 and the evenings are full of action.

By the middle of this year, there should be a thousand rooms on Paradise Island. And with evening trade from Nassau across the bridge, it looks like one of the most prosperous things in the warm, sugar islands.
It's a complicated setup. Mary Carter Paint Company built both hotels. Loewe's (New York's Regency, Americana, San Francisco's Mark Hopkins etc.) runs the Paradise Island.
Mary Carter Paint sold out the paint, changed the name and runs the new Britannia Beach and the Casino.
There are a number of tax advantages in the Bahamas.
For most people in the freezing north, the advantages are in the blue sea, the warm beaches and free port shopping.
The Casino puts on a Las Vegas show each night. Nassau town is full of cha-cha night clubs.
A big silver moon hung over the sea, exactly as advertised by the Nassau Development Board. And the night air was warm as money from home.

Budget Proposal Limit Scuttled

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Monday scuttled, on an 8-35 vote, a proposal directing the Budget Committee to hold its recommendations for each spending agency within the limits of Gov. Norbert Tiemann's budget requests.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who offered the motion, said his only purpose was "to prove to the people of this state" that the Legislature considers Tiemann's budget to be unrealistic.

Carpenter contends that the governor's proposal is too small, and that general fund spending for the coming biennium will need to be increased by at least $100 million.

"All I'm trying to prove is that this is a political movement (on the part of Tiemann) to discredit this body," the Scottsbluff lawmaker declared.

"The governor wants to make a record that this body is spending more money than is necessary."

Supporting Carpenter's attempt to adopt Tiemann's agency requests as a legislative maximum were Sens. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, Rudolf Kokes of Ord, Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, Pat Moulton of Omaha, Harold Moylan of Omaha, William Skarda of Omaha, and Ramey Whitney of Chappell.

A number of lawmakers, including Budget Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings, said they believe Tiemann's $350 million general fund spending recommendations can be trimmed.

And Marvel said the Budget Committee will formally propose a rules change to hold all but minor appropriations bills on the floor of the Legislature for consideration along with the committee's bill this spring.

That proposal would prevent the Legislature from acting on any spending bill in excess of $50,000 until the committee's budget recommendations are formulated.

Marvel said the committee has also decided to affix a fiscal tag to each spending bill as it comes due for public hearing.

In response to questioning from Carpenter, the Hastings lawmaker said he believes there is "fat" in the governor's budget and he believes its total spending recommendations are "too high."

Eleven senators, including six Budget Committee members, participated in Monday's 1½-hour debate, telecast by the Nebraska Educational Television Network.

Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine said many of the committee's problems are created by legislative action on spending bills, many of which, he noted, are being pushed by senators who opposed retaining the sales tax rate at 2½% last December.

The Legislature is "not a state Santa Claus," Adamson insisted. "Too many on this floor are striving to be Santa's helper."

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha said he is "not willing to vote to give everything" the governor recommended in his budget.

Marvel told his colleagues that Tiemann has proposed what amounts to "an open end budget request," whose total figures do not include efficiency appropriations which he has endorsed or new spending proposals which he supports.

Tiemann has built his budget largely by accepting the continuation of present programs, and adding 5% annual salary increases and 3% inflation factor, Marvel said.

But, he suggested, one "cannot computerize" budgets. All present programs may not be justified and new programs may deserve higher priority consideration than some of those now in effect, he said.

The Legislature, Marvel said, needs to "do quite a little earmarking" to assure that state agencies will spend their funds as the senators intend.

CARMICHAEL

OH, WELL---I'D PROBABLY JUST HAVE SQUANDERED THAT MONEY ON NECESSITIES, ANYWAY---

New Bill Would Erase Food Sales Tax Credit

Legislation which would abolish the food sales tax credit was presented to the Unicameral Monday.

The bill, LB896, signed by Sens. Elmer Walwey of Emerson and Ramey Whitney of Chappell, would wipe out the $7 per person food tax credit which taxpayers may now deduct from their state income tax liability.

Gov. Norbert Tiemann has proposed that the credit be increased to $9 per person.

The $7 credit reduces state revenue from the combination sales-income tax system by more than $20 million a biennium.

The credit was enacted to help relieve the taxpayer of sales tax costs for food purchases.

Women Jockeys

Monday's outpouring of new bills ran the gamut — including even a proposal guaranteeing the right of women jockeys to ride the ponies at race tracks in Nebraska.

There were bills to increase teacher retirement benefits, broaden the state retirement program, increase the cigarette tax and impose a tax on other tobacco products.

Other proposals would decrease maximum interest rates, increase judges retirement benefits, and ban Sunday sales of motor vehicles.

Measures were presented which would abolish the drivers re-examination test, create a state public counsel, and increase by two the number of district court judges in Douglas County.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton authored two bills paving the way for rapid transit development in the state through metropolitan transportation authorities and public power districts.

Truck Weights

LB911, signed by Sens. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, William Wylie of Elgin, Richard Marvel of Hastings, and Elvin Adamson of Valentine, would increase truck weight limits.

Sen. John Knight of Lincoln introduced his promised legislation to provide state loans for students seeking higher education.

Other new bills proposed to increase the state veterans aid fund, provide Douglas County employees with a civil service system, prohibit the State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission from purchasing land without legislative approval, and broaden state medical responsibility.

The dove hunting bill, LB806, was authored by Sen. J. James Waldron of Callaway.

Road Funds

There was a proposed constitutional amendment to strictly limit the expenditure of highway user funds to highway construction, and another to guarantee the authority of the University of Nebraska and the State Normal Board to issue revenue bonds for dormitory construction.

Another proposed constitutional change, written into LB800 by Waldron, would change the basis for equal legislative apportionment from total population to number of eligible electors.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff presented two alternative methods of permitting counties to raise more money through the property tax.

One proposal would triple the current ceiling; the other would abolish it. Both would require amendments to the constitution.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha proposed LB868, prohibiting political parties from participating in any petition efforts to amend the constitution unless so authorized at a party convention.

Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, joined by four colleagues, would outline the right of self-defense in LB925, a bill which authorizes any person to protect himself, his family and his property from assault "by any means necessary."

There was another homestead tax exemption proposal, and a new bill strengthening the people's right to summon a grand jury.

There were annexation bills and public power bills, one of the latter providing for municipal requisition of electric generation plants and transmission lines.

New sales tax exemptions would be provided for the purchase of air and water pollution control facilities.

Who Are They Kidding!
Each year, the Sporting News run a cartoon in the late winter showing a baseball player heading out of the house with an airline ticket for Florida and a bat over his shoulder.

Left behind are snow drifts and a wife with three or four screaming children watching him leave.

They may have to revise that cartoon considerably this winter if the major league players go through with their threatened strike against signing contracts.

The current squabble is over how much of an increase the owners are going to make to the pension fund.

The prima donna athletes of today are getting to the point where, in addition to having your young son learn how to hit a curve ball or throw a slider, you better also make sure he knows how to carry a picket sign.

But the Willie Mayes have to be kidding someone when they claim they won't sign a $100,000 contract for eight months of work if you can call it work.

Call Their Bluff
The world of sport is the only area in today's economy where a 19-year-old kid can get $100,000 or upwards just to sign a contract, then make $50,000 or $60,000 per year for the next five to 10 years, retire and draw $500 per month in pension money.

There are a lot of people carrying lunch buckets today, working 12 months a year who aren't even making what the sports star gets when he retires.

Willie Mays, you've got to be kidding.
What are you going to do Willie if Horace Stoneham and his fellow owners decide not to bow to your wishes — and they have no reason to — since they hold all the face cards in this game?

What will you do then, Willie, get a job unloading boxes of soup in a supermarket, selling cars, putting rivets in airplanes or what?

The only thing the Willie Mayes have going for them is their talent, but if the owners call the bluff and say, "Well, we just won't play this year," then that talent isn't worth a nickel if there's no place to display it.

Owners Have Facilities
If that happens, then Willie Mays is like the kid down the block, who shows up at the corner sandlot with his ball, bat and glove only to find the gate locked.

The owners own the ball parks, they own the money to pay the travel costs and all the other expensive items connected with a major league operation.

Owning a major league sports team is no way to get rich although players, who would be driving buses if it weren't for sports, get the idea every year that they're not getting their fair share of the dollar.

Willie Mays may not be happy with the way things are run and he may be willing to give up a job that pays him $100,000 for working from noon until 6 p.m. from mid-February to the first of October.

But when Willie starts thinking about the alternatives, Willie may think he's got a pretty good thing going.

—HAWKINS GREAT PROSPECT—
Allen Picturing Ex-Husker As LA's Next Ed Meador

Special to The Star
Los Angeles — In Nebraska's Jim Hawkins, the Los Angeles Rams believe they have landed one of the best — if not the best — defensive back pro prospects among the 1968 collegians drafted by the National and American Leagues. This came from no less an authority than the head skipper of the Rams himself, George Allen.
"We drafted three other defensive backs, but Hawkins was our first choice in this department," Allen told the Lincoln Star's special correspondent during the course of an interview here yesterday. Our scouting reports on Jim are very high and every indication he has a great future as a professional football player.
"As a matter of fact, I might even go so far as to say he was the finest defensive back prospect in last weeks draft," said Allen.

Hawkins, drafted by the Rams on the seventh round, is pictured by Allen as a future Eddie Medor, who is rated one of the greatest defensive backs in National League history. He has been a standout with the Rams for a number of years.
"I would say at least a half dozen other American and National League clubs would have welcomed Hawkins with open arms," added Allen. "Also I understand one Canadian League team is ready to give him a real juicy deal, but I'm confident we will be able to sign him as he wants to play in the NFL."
Asked the amount of the contract the Rams have offered Hawkins, Allen said, "I'm not at liberty to divulge the figures, but you can say it is an attractive one."
From an unimpeachable source, however, this writer has learned the Rams are offering Hawkins in the neighborhood of $25,000 for the 1969 season plus a bonus of $3,000 for signing.

HUSKERS TOPPLE OU, 90-83

Nebraska Climbs Out Of Conference Cellar

... SCANTLEBURY, STEWART SHINE

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

A hustling Nebraska basketball team led nearly all the way as it whipped Oklahoma, 90-83, and climbed out of the Big Eight basement Monday night at the NU Coliseum.

The triumph hiked Nebraska's conference record to 2-4, putting NU in a sixth-place tie with Missouri, which lost a home-court, overtime battle to Colorado, 80-79, Monday night.

Oklahoma fell to eighth place with a 1-4 loop mark.

Spunky guards Tom Scantlebury and Marv Stewart kept the Husker offense moving as they scored 24 and 16 points, respectively. And forward Bob Grattopp made his presence felt to the tune of 22 points, 14 of them from the free throw line.

Pressing and fast-breaking effectively, the Huskers stayed in the driver's seat most of the way, trailing only briefly early in the game.

The visiting Sooners were behind by as many as a dozen in the first half, although they came within three at 39-36 just a minute before halftime.

The Huskers led 45-36 at intermission, but Stewart and Scantlebury got together to put in 12 points in a four-minute span, giving NU a 57-40 cushion with 16 minutes left in the game. Sophomore pivot Cliff Ray, junior forward Garfield Heard and reserve Bob Patterson kept the Sooners in the ball game, whittling the Husker lead to 67-61 with 7:55 remaining.

Ray, working effectively under the basket, stuffed in 14 points in the second half to finish with 24, tying Scantlebury for game scoring honors.

However, the Sooner threats were short-lived as the Huskers were back to a 15-point lead with 3:16 remaining (84-69) and again with 3:02 to go (86-71).

Nebraska appeared to have it wrapped up at that point, but Ray potted two free throws and a field goal and reserve Bob Campbell shot in a pair from the field to make it 86-81 with 33 seconds left in the game.

However, a bucket by Jim Brooks and two free throws by Ken Cauble in the final ten seconds prevented the game from getting any closer.

Free throws were a key to the Husker success as they hit 30 of 38 from the line, while the Sooners hit on only 17 of 33 charity chances. That gave Nebraska a 79 per cent average at the line to Oklahoma's poor 61 per cent. Both clubs hit 47 per cent from the field and the Huskers were actually outscored by six points from the floor.

Nebraska hit 30 of 63 field goal attempts, while the Sooners hit 33 of 70.

Both clubs pressed effectively at times and the result was a total of 43 turnovers in the game — 21 by Nebraska and 22 by Oklahoma.

Although 6-7 pivot Leroy Chalk was in foul trouble much of the game, Nebraska still dominated the boards, taking 47 rebounds to Oklahoma's 37.

Leading the way for the Huskers was 6-8 Jim Brooks, who did not start, but grabbed 11 caroms. Chalk and Scantlebury picked off eight rebounds each, while Grattopp pulled down 7.

Ray and Heard each had nine rebounds for the Sooners.

The win boosted the Huskers' season record to 9-9, while Oklahoma dropped to 5-12.

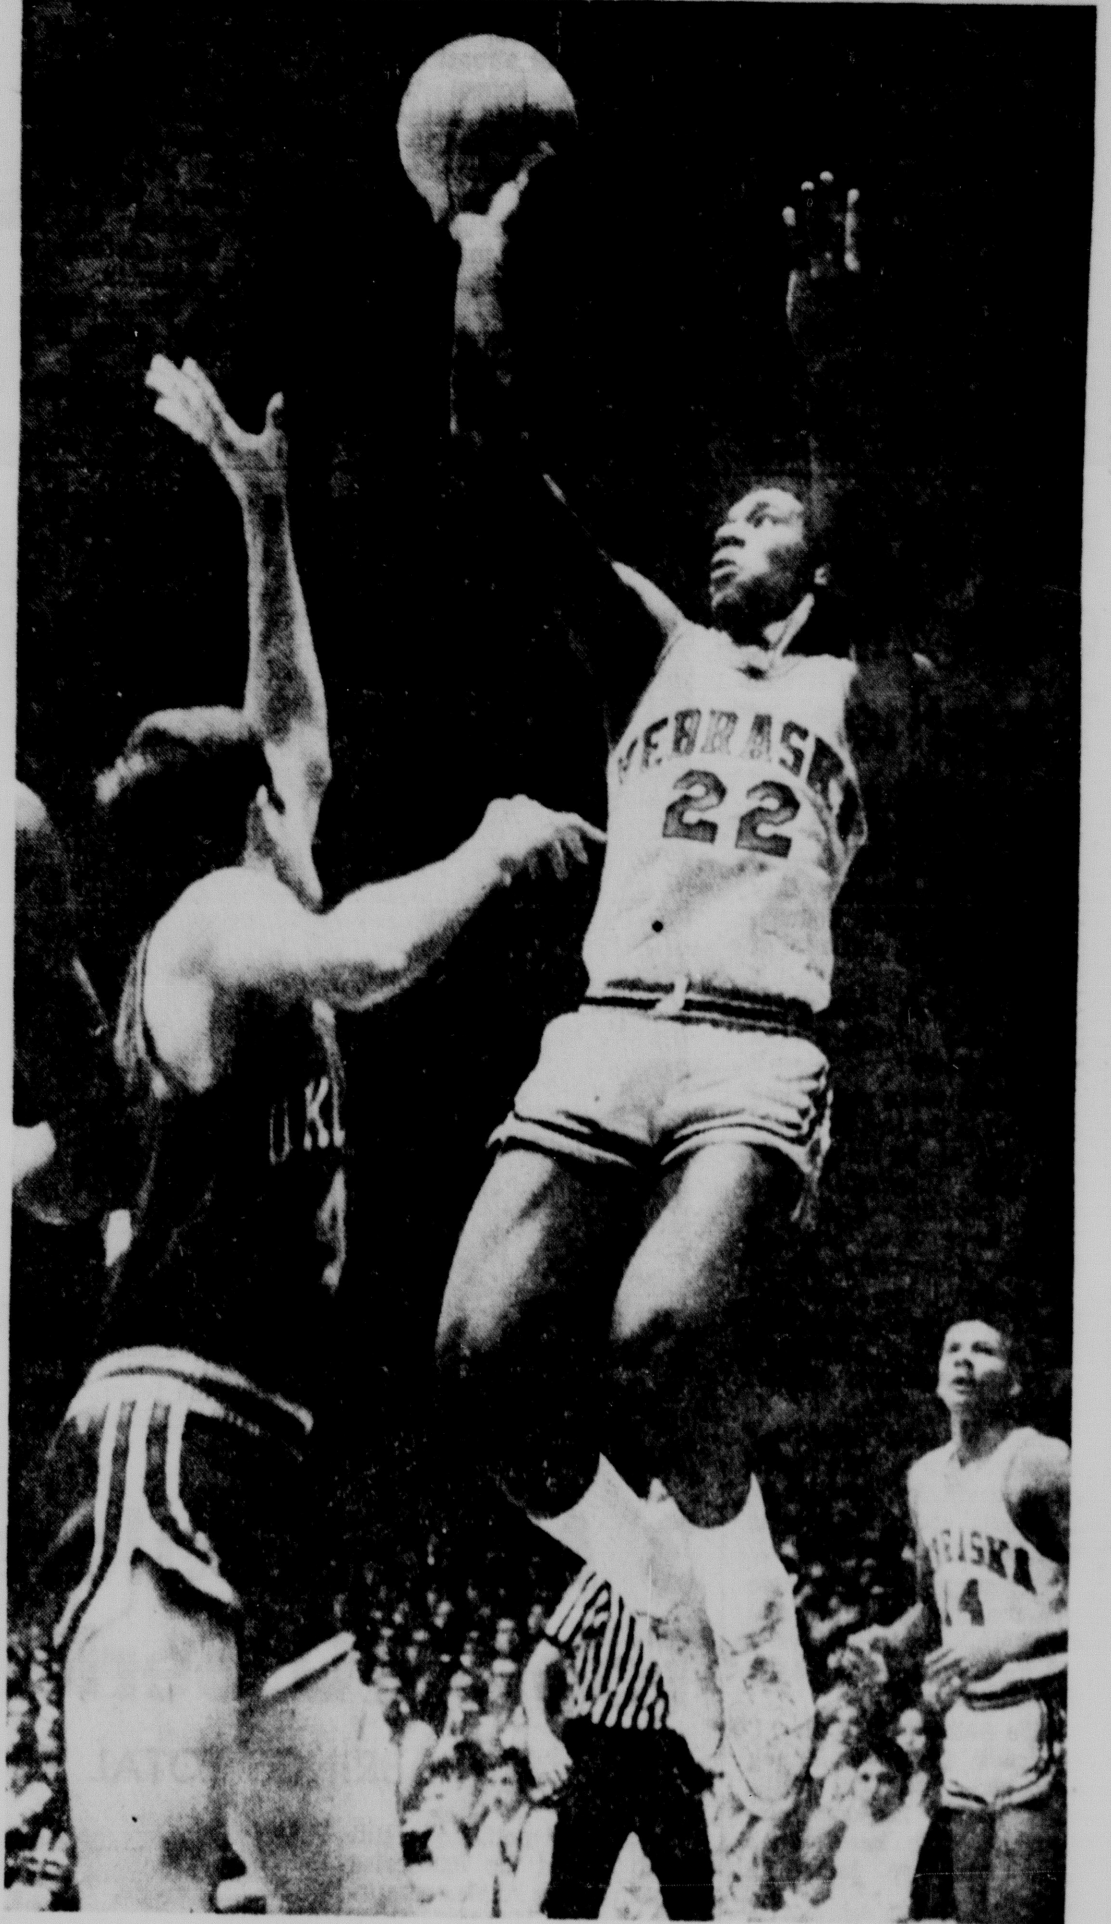

Nebraska's next assignment sends them to Boulder, Colo., where they meet the league-leading Colorado Buffaloes this Saturday.

The Buffs boast a 5-1 loop mark and stand 15-3 overall.

—CHUALO BLOODIED— Mathis, Griffith Win In Garden

New York (P) — Big Buster Mathis came on strong from the fifth round on to chop out a unanimous decision over cut and bloodied George Chuvalo of Canada in a foul-packed 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

In the first fight of the co-featured doubleheader, Emile Griffith, the former welterweight and middleweight champion, celebrated his 31st birthday by winning a unanimous decision over Andy Heilman of Fargo, N.D., in a 10-rounder.

Mathis, outweighing his game and durable foe 232 pounds to 208, opened cuts over both of Chuvalo's eyes, raised a huge lump on the left side of the Canadian champion's face, and clearly outboxed him in the last eight rounds.

Referee Harold Valan almost stopped the rout in the 11th round when Mathis opened a deep and wide gash over Chuvalo's left eye.

The officials voted for Mathis by the following round scores: referee Harold Valan, 10-2; judge Al Berl 9-3 and Judge Jack Gordon, 8-3-1. The Associated Press had Mathis in front, 10-2.

Mathis, by winning his sixth straight fight, earned a fight in the Garden with Jerry Quarry, the No. 2 contender from Los Angeles, on March 10.

The heavyweights staged a fierce battle through the first four rounds as the crowd of 14,155 gross gate $123,536 roared.

But from then on Mathis, boxing nimbly as a welterweight, piled up points with left jabs, left hooks, right uppercuts and combinations to Chuvalo's battered face. Chuvalo concentrated mostly on the big boy's blubbery body.

Most of the fouling occurred in the first round. Chuvalo started it off with a low left. Then, as referee Valan was warning Chuvalo, the enraged Mathis pushed the official away and deliberately hit Chuvalo with a low left to the groin.

The Canadian came back with another blow, Mathis again pushed the referee aside to get at his opponent. They then pounded away at each other. At the end of the round, the referee warned both to cut out the fouling.

Kansas Loses Greg Douglas

Lawrence, Kan. (UPI) — Forward Greg Douglas, who has been alternating as a pivot for Kansas University, today was declared scholastically ineligible for the remainder of the year.

The 6-8 junior will miss tonight's crucial Big Eight encounter with Oklahoma State and the Jayhawks' remaining seven games.

Head basketball coach Ted Owens said Douglas plans to remain in school and hopes to regain his eligibility for next year.

Douglas has played in all of Kansas' 18 games to date and was the Jayhawks' No. 6 scorer for the season with 67 points. He had a game high of 16 against Missouri earlier in the campaign.

It marked the second time in three days that Kansas has lost a member of its basketball squad. All-American Jo Jo White ran out of eligibility after Saturday night's 80-70 victory over league leading Colorado.

The Jayhawks still have four big men to work the double post setup.

North Platte Loses

Garden City, Kan. (P) — Garden City Junior College picked up a six-point lead early in the second half and maintained the margin until a last-minute explosion that iced an 83-71 non-conference basketball victory over North Platte JC here Monday night.

Wesleyan, Doane '5' To Clash

Tipoff: 7:30 p.m., Butler Gym, Doane College, Crete.

Doane has played only four basketball games at home this season, and the Tigers won them all. The problem is, they've lost eight of 12 on the road and haven't gone above 500 yet.

Prospects for rectifying this situation could be bright tonight when the Crete five hosts Nebraska Wesleyan, a team that hasn't beaten Doane in four years.

"We've been at 500 a few times this year, now we'd like to get our nose above it," said Tigers' coach Bob Erickson. Doane is 8-8 and the Plainsmen are 10-9.

"Having had only four home games has been tough and the loss of (Alan) Gissler because of ineligibility has set us back. We had been trying to do things with him," Gissler was a promising 6-8 sophomore center.

"We've had good success lately. Against Omaha (95-75) we had leads of 26-27 points most of the time and it was as good a team effort as we've had. We were only 8-21 in free throws against Wayne (58-75) and might have won with better shooting," Erickson said.

Erickson is now starting former Northeast standout Chris Rosenstock at a forward spot and has moved 6-5 senior Mike Lee to center. Jackie Owen (5-10) and Terry Egger (5-11) are the guards.

Ohio State Gets Kansas Assistant

Lawrence, Kan. (P) — Dave McClain, University of Kansas linebacker coach the past season, resigned Monday to accept a position as assistant football coach at Ohio State University.

Jayhawk Coach Pepper Rodgers said he hopes to name a replacement in a few days. McClain played at Bowling Green and coached at Bowling Green, Cornell and Miami of Ohio before coming to Kansas.

—VINCE NOT RELEASED— GB Offers Resistance

New York — Vince Lombardi ran into resistance in Green Bay, Wis., today when he attempted to resign as general manager of the Packers and accept an offer from the Washington Redskins as coach, general manager and part owner.

Lombardi asked the seven-man executive committee of the Packers to release him from his contract as general manager which runs to 1972 and carries a salary of $100,000 annually. He failed to receive his request.

"Mr. Lombardi has not been given his release," said Dominic Olejniczak, president of the Packers, following the committee's meeting with Lombardi. "The matter is open to serious consideration." Olejniczak said the committee might need "two or three more meetings" and that another would be scheduled "in a day or two."

In Washington, Edward Bennett Williams was twice thwarted in announcing the coming of Lombardi. Williams, the noted attorney who serves as president of the Redskins, canceled one press conference at 1 p.m. and walked out of another at 5 p.m. because he had nothing to announce.

Meanwhile the debate went on in another lawyer's office, that of Fred Trowbridge in Green Bay where he serves as the Packers' treasurer and legal counsel.

Williams and Lombardi were guilty apparently of haste. A clause in Lombardi's contract with the Packers bars him from coaching another team in the National Football League during the life of the contract.

"Any man can quit a job of course," said Olejniczak, "but I believe there is a conflict, that he (Lombardi) cannot coach another team during the life of the contract."

In addition, Williams and Lombardi had apparently overlooked the league rule requiring one team seeking another team's employ to ask permission before beginning negotiations. Olejniczak said no such contact had been made.

Of the new job with the Redskins, Lombardi said, "I will have a substantial piece of equity and the position will include coaching. I will have control of the club — everything. Everyone wants to own something sometime — isn't that right?"

Left in limbo was Otto Graham, the coach and general manager of the Washington team with two years to go on his $50,000-a-year contract. The Redskins had promised an organizational job to Graham, who was on a golf vacation in Palm Springs, Calif.

Lombardi resigned as coach of the Packers a year ago but continued as the team's general manager. He took on both jobs in 1959.

Pershing Won't Be Tourney Bound Despite Outstanding Year

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Pershing College basketball coach Bob Gates and his team now are beginning to know how Fordy Anderson and Hiram Scott have felt the last couple of years.

Pershing toppled Rockhurst of Kansas City, 87-77, last Saturday night for its ninth straight victory to bring its season record to 15-3. But no matter if they win all of their nine remaining games, the Generals cannot go to any tournaments because they are not fully accredited by either the NAIA or NCAA College Division, although they are an associate member of both.

Hiram Scott has had 19-4 and 15-5 records the two years previous to this one but had the same problem of no accreditation.

Pershing will almost certainly set a school win record in its third season after finishing 17-5 and 10-12 in its initial two campaigns. The Generals' schedule, also, is much tougher and as an indication that they are getting stronger, the victory over a 13-6 Rockhurst club avenged a 114-80 setback last year. A 68-55 victory over Tarkio made up for losses to the Missouri school the last two years.

One of Pershing's conquerors this winter, St. Mary's of the Plains, stopped the Generals 79-71 the first time before the Nebraska came back for a 76-52 victory in the rematch. Hiram Scott, which knocked off Pershing 87-75 in December and is averaging 101 points a game, comes to Beatrice Saturday night, so that should be another interesting rematch.

Wayland, Texas, stopped the Generals, 68-66, in the opening round of the Phillips, Okla., Invitational for their other setback.

What's with the Pershing success this year?

"I think we're playing much better defense and have a good, disciplined offense," Gates points out. "The kids are taking good shots. The last five games we've shot better than 50 per cent from the field and had 26-for-48 against Tarkio and 35-for-63 against Rockhurst. We're starting to cut down on our fouls defensively."

Pershing's starters are guards Mike Graham, 6-1 junior from Omaha Benson, and Brent Estee, 6-1 junior from Creighton Prep; forwards Jim Hunter, a 6-3 Omaha Central junior, and Dan Treadwell, 6-4

Gadsden, Ala., sophomore, and center Jim Tubbs, who stands 6-3, hails from Toledo, O., and is another junior.

Steve Amidon, 6-0 sophomore from Rockford, Ill., is the first replacement at guard and Gates says also that Klaus Brotzki, 6-3 junior from Omaha Ryan, "has done a real fine job, especially the last four games."

Gates took the Pershing job, which also includes athletic director and baseball coach, in May of 1966 after 11 years at Omaha Holy Name, which explains why four of the top seven Pershing players are from the Omaha area. "It was late in the year to go out and get players from far away when I got the job at Pershing, and the players that year were probably the best crop out of Omaha in 10 years. I picked up about eight of them for baseball, too."

All the Generals are contributing their share: Hunter is the leading scorer with a 20-point average, Graham tops the club in assists, Treadwell and Tubbs are 1-2 in rebounds and Gates calls Estee "our team leader." Estee missed five early-season games with an ankle sprain.

As to when Pershing can become accredited, Gates says, "I just don't know. There are so many requirements by the North Central Association but we're making progress. It does take a four-year minimum, though."

Pat Ash Gals Stick Together

By TOM HENDERSON
Star Sports Writer

There are a lot of new faces in the Lincoln City Women's Bowling Tournament each year, and a lot of familiar ones.

But the Pat Ash team undoubtedly holds the longevity record.

Only the team name has changed in the last 18 years and two of its members, Gertrude Wendelin, the team captain, and Val Mills, have been bowling together at least 24 years.

The other three, Ruth Ann Foster, Shirley Farmer and Marie Meisinger, joined 18 years ago and they've been together ever since.

And, at one time or another, each has won either a singles, doubles or all-events championship as well as several team titles.

"My partner and I have won the doubles, State and City both," Gertrude says. "The women trade partners frequently."

"We both liked to bowl," Gertrude says, explaining how she and Val Mills started the lasting relationship. "We knew each other and we joined a league."

Gertrude says the team bowled as Lincoln Liberty Life "for quite a while," and "we've been Pat Ash Cameras for years now."

During that time the team has gone to several national tournaments, including ones in Omaha, Columbus, O., Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Houston and St. Paul. "One year we won over $200," she says.

Gertrude says, however, that the team's heyday is past.

"We're not the hotshots in Lincoln, but I think we hold the record for being together longest," she says. "I don't think we're going to make any marks in this year's City tournament, Gertrude goes on. "We're feeding the kitty now."

Whether the team wins a championship this year or not, Gertrude may be a little pessimistic.

Pat Ash's team average going into the tournament has been around the 2200 mark for a series, good enough so far in the tournament to land among the leaders.

Wayne State Tops Dana '5', 73-60

The victory gave Wayne, ranked 12th last week by the NAIA, a 16-2 season record.

Oil Slick May Have Silver Lining

Washington — Congressional antipollution forces, proceeding on the theory that the darkest oil slick may have a silver lining, Monday opened a hopeful campaign for new legislation to combat widespread water contamination.

Six Oil Firms Cease Drilling Off California

Santa Barbara, Calif. (UPI) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said Monday oil companies had complied with his request that they voluntarily stop drilling in the Santa Barbara Channel because of a huge oil slick menacing some of Southern California's finest beaches.

Hickel asked for the volunteer suspension of drilling until the pollution crisis had been studied following his two-hour aerial survey Monday of the massive slick of reddish-brown crude oil that had spread across the blue waters of the Pacific along the coast.

In announcing that the six oil firms drilling in the area had agreed to his request, Hickel said: "This procedure will afford a breathing spell until it can be determined whether corrective measures are necessary."

After surveying the slick from the air, Hickel said, "The pollution is much more severe than I had anticipated."

But Hickel, confronted with his first major problem since taking office with the Nixon administration, did not order a halt to drilling in the channel although he has the power to do so.

Favorable winds held the oil back from the beaches Monday.

Foreign Aid Job Offered MSU Prexy

Washington — President Nixon has offered Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, the post of administrator of the Agency for International Development.

The choice was interpreted by veteran development experts in and out of the federal government as signaling a dramatic revision of the foreign aid program toward increased emphasis on technical assistance and less on capital outlays through government-to-government loans for large-scale project construction such as factories, transportation systems and hydroelectric sources.

Although MSU president since 1941, Hannah has long been active in the field of advancing the lot of peoples in the less-developed two-thirds of the world. He was chairman of President Truman's Point 4 advisory committee.

He was named chairman of the Civil Rights Commission in December, 1957, a position he still holds.

Hannah continued, amid his other activities, to press for more technical assistance for less developed countries through foreign aid.

His most recent effort toward this goal was as chairman of a task force of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, which two weeks ago called for "a fundamental reassessment of the United States position in international affairs" and a complete reorientation of the nation's foreign aid policies.

Alliance For Progress Spurs Greater Economic Growth

New York Times Service

Washington — Latin American countries participating in the Alliance for Progress enjoyed a general upturn in economic growth last year compared with the relative doldrums in the region's development since 1966.

According to the Inter-American Committee of the Alliance for Progress (CIAP), the growth in the region's gross national product rose to 5.5% last year compared with an average of 4.3% for the previous two years.

This was the result of increased exports, higher levels of domestic savings leading to larger public investments and larger foreign public and private capital transfers, the CIAP survey said.

This encouraging performance report was presented Monday to the consortium of 13 major Western aid-giving countries, including the United States, which opened a two-day meeting on Latin American development in Paris.

The aid-giving group is known as the Development Assistance Committee (DAC) of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

Firemen's union demands a return to coal-shovel work rules.

It's featherbedding... and would cost you plenty!

There's no need for a fireman on freight and yard diesels. Not since the Steam Age.

There's no coal for him to shovel, no fires for him to stoke. With both engineer and brakeman in the cab of a road locomotive, there are no lookout duties for a third man to perform. A fireman would serve no purpose other than featherbedding.

A Presidential Railroad Commission condemned it. Congress provided for a Board to deal with it. That Board ruled against it. The Courts agreed.

And railroads got a green light to eliminate the unnecessary firemen jobs on freight and yard diesels. But the men were protected. They received other railroad jobs at no loss in earnings or got generous severance allowances.

Now the Firemen's union leaders are demanding that we restore featherbedding—even though that means hiring people with no previous railroad experience. In one year alone it would cost you the public over $200 million in higher shipping charges...higher prices for the goods you buy. And put a serious roadblock in the way of railroad progress.

Railroads must continue to make progress...faster...to keep ahead of your growing transportation needs.

Committee Takes No Action On State Claims Board Plan

A bill creating a State Claims Board to administer tort claims against the State of Nebraska for property damage or personal injury caused by its employees was heard without action Monday by the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

The measure (LB154) and a companion bill, LB155, establishing a similar procedure for local governments were developed by a Legislature interim study committee headed by Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln.

The board, composed of the state auditor, state treasurer and lieutenant governor, would consider all tort claims against the state and determine the amount of the award to the claimant.

Could Sue
If the board failed to act within six months, or the claimant was dissatisfied, a lawsuit could be brought by the claimant in District Court. Luedtke said the measure would provide a two-year statute of limitation for claims, and would create a special claims division in the attorney general's office to investigate all claims for the board.

It would also authorize the state to acquire liability insurance covering its employees.

Support for the measure came from the Nebraska Association of Trial Attorneys, American Insurance Association, and State Insurance Director Ben Neff Jr.

No Opposition
There was no opposition to the companion bill covering political subdivisions of the state. However, the City of Omaha suggested the local governing body be authorized to delegate administration of claims to a special board.

Also heard was LB267, which would exempt non-Nebraska mortgage bankers and investment houses from the state franchise tax on mortgage loans purchased in Nebraska.

The legislation was supported by the Nebraska Mortgage Associations, several banks and savings and loans associations. No committee action was taken on the bill.

Banking Committee
The Legislature's Banking and Commerce Committee Monday sent to the floor a bill providing for a premature payment charge on loans and held for further consideration another controversial bill which would revise the state's banking laws.

Both of the measures were sponsored by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter.

The committee voted, 8-0, to advance LB192, a bill that would authorize state-chartered building and loan associations to make charge for premature payments of loans and which would extend their authority for building and improvement loans.

The committee voted, 5-0, to hold another of Carpenter's bills, LB44, after Nebraska banking representatives and Carpenter clashed in public hearing on the measure.

Carpenter said that "promiscuous credit and current expansion of holding companies" might be "building a house of cards."

He likened the situation today to that of 1929.

He said the measure — which would variously revise statutes relating to banking, bank holding companies, surplus, reserves, loans and investments — would provide the state banking director with "added discriminatory powers in order to prevent" another depression.

Banking representatives at the hearing said they had yet to hear of one bank in the state which supports the bill.

Education Committee
The Legislature's Education Committee Monday considered a bill increasing the number of University of Nebraska regents from six to eight and establishing corresponding new districts, but postponed a decision pending further study.

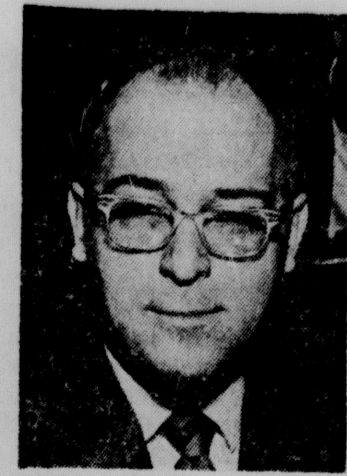

Reapportioning the districts is a constitutional requirement and LB188's sponsor, Sen. George Syas of Omaha, said the number of regents made no particular difference so long as the one-man, one-vote principle was adhered to.

Regent Ed Schwartzkopf of Lincoln and University of Nebraska attorney Flavel Wright of Lincoln offered an amendment to the measure, proposing a seven-member board and corresponding districts.

The committee sent to the floor Sen. J. James Waldron's LB236, which was designed to remove the property ownership requirement for voting in school elections, but didn't come out that way.

The committee amended the bill to require school election voters be registered voters and to reinstate the section of law requiring property ownership which Waldron had proposed be deleted.

Also held was a bill revising the procedure for the transfer of school land from one district to another.

SEN. LUEDTKE... headed committee.

Skarda Proposes Board For Youth

Sen. William Skarda of Omaha proposed in the Legislature Monday a metropolitan county commission on youth for Douglas County.

The board would be made up of adults on governmental boards and commissions and youngsters at least 16 years old.

The purpose would be to gather information and opinions and make suggestions to law-making bodies on subjects dealing with youth.

Sen. Bill Bloom of Omaha joined Skarda in sponsorship of the bill, LB782.

Legislature Kills Power Rate Bill

The Legislature Monday killed on general file a bill introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter authorizing municipalities to set rates for public utilities which they furnish, and making delinquent charges a lien against property.

The Scottsbluff lawmaker made the bill motion after a series of amendments had altered the complexion of the measure.

The vote to kill was 36-0.

LAP Board Endorses Credit Union Plan

A proposal to offer the services of American Stores Employees Federal Credit Union to persons other than employees in a low-income section of the city was endorsed by the Lincoln Action Program board of directors Monday night.

Persons of any income level would be eligible who live in the area bounded by O, 9th and South Sts., and Salt Creek.

Approval also must be obtained from the credit union members, slated to consider the proposal at the annual meeting in March, and from the Bureau of Federal Credit Unions, credit union manager Bryson Brazier reported later.

Persons applying for loans or depositing savings will become members and receive the same services as the other members, including financial counseling, he explained.

Advantageous to low-income persons would be the low rate of interest of 1% per month for small loans, the board was told. Some private loan companies charge as much as 36% on small loans, it was noted.

In other action Monday the board approved committee assignments for the year and elected Mrs. Jerilyn Johns as the representative of low-income Lincolmites to the state association of community action agencies.

A question about the late arrival of ADC checks in recent months was declared "none of the business" of the Lincoln Action Program board by Lancaster County Welfare Director Earl Trabert.

Trabert said that the county was receiving its money from the state later in the month and his office could not process the ADC checks any sooner, but refused to discuss the matter any more at the meeting.

Federal Disaster Aid Asked For Nebraska

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Monday asked President Richard Nixon to declare 42 Nebraska counties a blizzard disaster area and provide $1 million federal emergency funds to assist in opening snow-blocked roads.

In a letter relayed through the Denver Regional Office of Emergency Preparedness, Tiemann said movement of grain, livestock, food, fuel and school buses have been seriously disrupted by the Dec. 19-22 blizzard.

He said state and local government has expended more than $1.5 million for snow removal and repair of public utilities in qualifying for federal disaster funds.

Private damage was estimated at $33.5 million in market losses, feed costs and cattle weight losses and deaths.

The disaster area generally encompasses central and northeastern counties.

Tiemann said all roads within the area could be reopened within a 10-day period with the federal assistance if there is no more snow.

Kent Hutton of Denver, assistant regional disaster coordinator, said during the governor's news conference that damage and costs estimates in the requests are being reviewed.

Federal assistance for street and road snow removal requested county-by-county is:

Adams, $10,000; Antelope, $10,000; Arthur, $10,000; Blaine, $14,000; Boone, $30,000; Boyd, $20,000; Brown, $30,000; Cedar, $20,000; Cherry, $40,000; Clay, $10,000; Cumming, $30,000; Custer, $20,000; Dakota, $20,000; Dixon, $60,000; Garfield, $10,000; Grant, $10,000; Greeley, $20,000; Hall, $10,000; Hamilton, $10,000; Holt, $60,000; Hooker, $10,000; Howard, $20,000; Kewa Paha, $20,000; Knox, $60,000; Logan, $10,000; Loup, $14,000; McPherson, $10,000; Madison, $20,000; Merrick, $20,000; Nemaha, $20,000; Nuckolls, $10,000; Pierce, $40,000; Rock, $30,000; Sherman, $20,000; Stanton, $30,000; Thomas, $10,000; Thurston, $20,000; Valley, $14,000; Wayne, $40,000; Webster, $10,000; Wheeler, $14,000; and York, $20,000.

Federal Courts Overloaded; Some Must Wait Two Years

Washington (AP) — A report sent to Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell Monday showed the backlog of criminal cases in some federal courts is so large defendants must wait more than two years for a jury trial.

According to the study, made by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, the total pending criminal case load in 89 district courts throughout the nation rose to 14,763 by the end of fiscal 1968 — an increase since 1955 of 71%.

Nearly 2,000 of these cases were pending more than two years, and another 2,000 have been awaiting jury action more than 12 months.

Nationwide, defendants in criminal actions waited a median time of 5.8 months for jury trial and 2.2 months to enter a guilty plea.

The longest time lapse before trial was in the Eastern District of New York, where criminal defendants spent a median time of 22.8 months awaiting trial.

If there is to be delay at all, a month to six weeks is considered the maximum acceptable period by court officials.

In addition to the criminal cases on the dockets of U.S. District Courts, there were 82,482 civil cases pending as of fiscal 1968, the study showed.

City Opposes 8-Story Eastmont Manor

Lincoln City Council members indicated Monday they would not approve Eastmont Manor's request for an addition to the present retirement home unless the building was reduced in height.

Representatives for the retirement home at 63rd and O Sts. had proposed an eight-story building which would accommodate 85 living units.

Council members indicated that they never would have approved the retirement home project if they had known the building was going to be eight stories high.

Developers of the three-stage development had proposed a five-story building when the City Council approved a special permit to construct the retirement home.

The City-County Planning Commission and Planning

Director Douglas Brodgen had earlier recommended approval of the change from five to eight stories.

Dr. Kenneth Berg, a Kansas City, Mo. minister and project consultant, said a high-rise plan was necessary because of spiraling building costs.

Withhold Approval

The council decided to withhold approval of the plot plan for the addition until a change is made to reduce the height of the building.

Dr. Berg, who indicated he was displeased with the council's decision, asked that there be no restrictions on the number of apartment units in the revised building.

"We are defeated if you limit us on both the height and the number of apartment units," the Presbyterian minister said.

Need More Units

He said more than 85 units would be needed if the home is to come out on costs.

Councilman Lloyd Hinkley said the council cannot give a blanket approval to such a request.

During the public hearing, Hinkley — who was the first to openly oppose an eight-story building — read a letter from realtor Wendell Harding, who wrote he was upset about the high-rise plan for the second building of Eastmont Manor and thought that the residents of the Taylor Park area would be also upset after being told the building was to be smaller in height.

Spot Check

Dr. Berg said he made a spot check on attitudes towards a high-rise building in the area.

"The ones I talked to were indifferent about the height of the building," he said.

Dr. Berg said the increased height would mean a saving of $2,000-$3,000 to the elderly who must pay for a lifetime lease.

Join In Opposition

Councilman Bill Davidson and councilwoman Helen Boosalis joined with Hinkley in expressing opposition to a high-rise apartment in the Taylor Park area.

Dr. Berg said an agreement is needed soon since the financial commitment expires in April and a new commitment would mean added interest costs.

In other action an ordinance change which would permit doctor's offices on hospital premises was tabled again as council members indicated there were still some questions needing answers.

Raise Water Rate

Ordinances which would raise water rates 25% and sewage use rates by a hike percentage were introduced during the council meeting.

Kirby, Convicted Of Slaying, Files Notice Of Appeal

Ronald Eugene Kirby, convicted of first degree murder in Douglas County last month, has filed notice he is appealing his case to the State Supreme Court.

The 25-year old Omahan was convicted by a jury and sentenced to life imprisonment for the Sept. 20, 1968, slaying of Gilbert W. Batten Jr. of Omaha, who was forced to kneel in the basement of his home and was shot in the head.

District Court Judge Rudolph Tesar who pronounced the sentence recommended that Kirby never be paroled.

Two of Kirby's companions — John Hinz, 25, and Robert Chester Walker, 25 — are awaiting trial on charges of first degree murder.

$25,000 Reward Offered To Deter Plane Hijackings

Washington (AP) — The scheduled airlines and their pilots jointly offered Monday a $25,000 reward aimed to deter plane hijackings.

The award will be paid for information leading to arrest and conviction of anyone violating federal hijacking statutes involving aircraft operated by a United States airline.

It will be limited to information supplied before next Jan. 1 regarding hijackings that have occurred after Jan. 15, 1969.

The ordinances once adopted would affect all meter readings as of April 22.

The rate increases are being sought to provide sufficient revenue for capital improvements.

Capitol Phone Co. Members Reject Offer By LT&T

A purchase proposal made by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. (LT&T) to the Capitol Cooperative Telephone Co. was turned down Monday by members of Capitol's 10 southeastern Nebraska telephone exchanges.

More than 2,200 members of the company voted on the proposal. The issue was defeated because less than two-thirds of those voting favored the purchase, an official at Capitol said.

The proposal would have brought exchanges in Alvo, Eagle, Avoca, Barneston, Cortland, DuBois, Firth, Hickman, Liberty, Martell and Palmyra into the LT&T system, a spokesman for LT&T said.

In addition, he said, local service rates would have generally been reduced.

LT&T had offered Capitol $2,743,409 for the system, according to an LT&T official.

The board, consisting of City Council members, will hear objections about the assessments from property owners at that time.

Bill Davidson was elected chairman of the board Monday.

The board has the power to assess any omitted property, to review and correct assessments, and to equalize the assessments of all real and personal property in the city.

City Clerk Harold Springer said letters have been sent to those property owners who should appear Tuesday.

Springer said those failing to appear forfeit any further chance to appeal the assessment.

Single Juror To Be Chosen, Then Garrison Unfolds Case

New Orleans (AP) — One alternate juror was chosen Monday in the Clay Shaw trial, making it one to go before Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison starts unfolding his conspiracy case.

Sworn as the 13th juror and first alternate was John Joseph Beilman Jr., 26, who works for a microfilm manufacturer.

At one point, chief defense counsel F. Irvin Dymond challenged Beilman because he expressed doubt that he could acquit if only a probability of guilt was shown. But after further examination by the judge, the juror said he could accept the law which requires proof beyond a reasonable doubt to convict.

126th Called

He was the 126th prospective juror called Monday.

More than 1,000 prospects filed through the courtroom in the first 12 days of jury selection for Shaw's trial on a charge of plotting to murder President John F. Kennedy five years ago.

Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. has summoned another 150 veniremen for Tuesday in his third special call for jurors. Selection of a 12-man jury was completed Saturday.

The Warren Commission in its official investigation found no credible evidence of conspiracy in the Kennedy assassination. The commission concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, a Dallas bookstore employee and former New Orleans resident, was the lone assassin.

A grand jury indicted Shaw in 1967 on a charge of conspiring with Oswald, David W. Ferrie "and others" to kill Kennedy. Oswald and Ferrie are dead.

Immunity Sought

Meantime, defense attorneys requested a court order granting immunity from prosecution to Sandra Moffett McMaines during the time she would be in New Orleans for Shaw's trial.

Judge Haggerty said a hearing would be held on the motion after jury selection is completed.

Mrs. McMaines, a former New Orleans resident, was reported by her Des Moines, Iowa, lawyer to be in hiding last week after the defense obtained a subpoena for her as a witness. The lawyer, Lex Hawkins, said his client feared for her life because of the "mysterious way some other people in the case have died," and because she did not want to risk prosecution.

A prosecution witness, Perry Raymond Russo, testified at a preliminary hearing in 1967 that Mrs. McMaines, then single, went with him to a New Orleans party in 1963 where he allegedly heard Shaw plot with two other men to assassinate Kennedy.

Mrs. McMaines, a former New Orleans resident, was reported by her Des Moines, Iowa, lawyer to be in hiding last week after the defense obtained a subpoena for her as a witness. The lawyer, Lex Hawkins, said his client feared for her life because of the "mysterious way some other people in the case have died," and because she did not want to risk prosecution.

A prosecution witness, Perry Raymond Russo, testified at a preliminary hearing in 1967 that Mrs. McMaines, then single, went with him to a New Orleans party in 1963 where he allegedly heard Shaw plot with two other men to assassinate Kennedy.

Moffett McMaines during the time she would be in New Orleans for Shaw's trial.

Judge Haggerty said a hearing would be held on the motion after jury selection is completed.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
